At Kettering There's a Place for Everyone in Myriad School Events

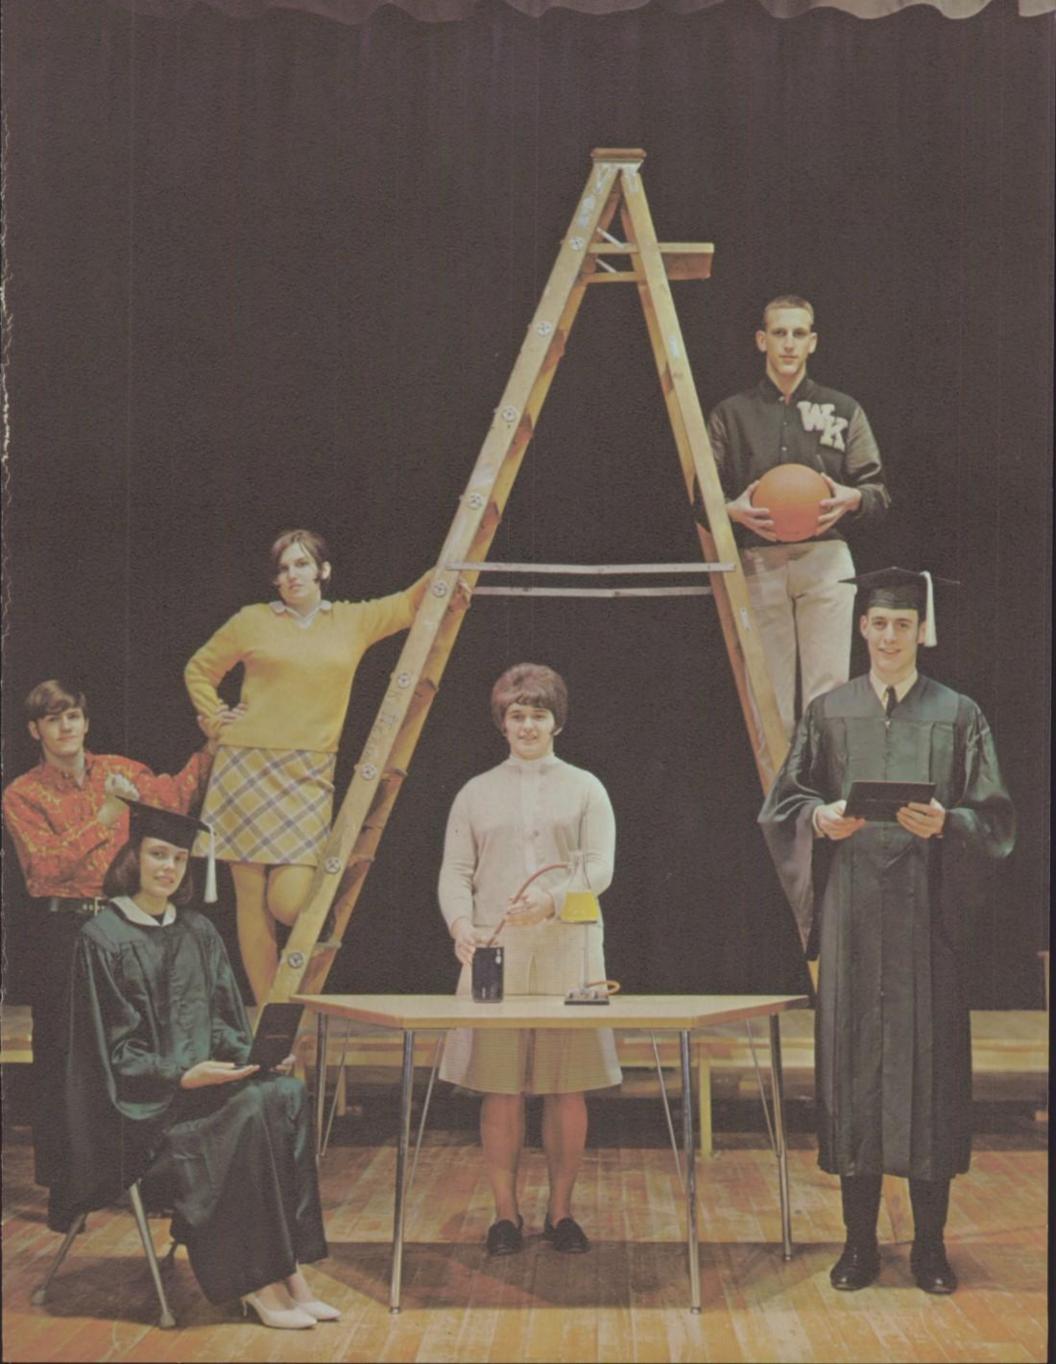

In academics, athletics, or extra-curricular activities, there is a place for each of us at Kettering. A lively, school-spirited student body results when students are actively involved in searching for their place. Not only does the group benefit in the search, but we gain more from school in knowing there is a place for us.

Through an Awareness of Abilities Comes Achievement

Only by being aware of our abilities can we use them fully. Through confidence in knowing the extent of our capabilities, accomplishment is extended. Interests prompt an exploration into untried experiences. Actually running for a class office, joining a different club, trying out for a play, striving to make a team, or taking a challenging course, instead of just talking about it, increases the scope of our interests. Thus it becomes easier to find our place at Kettering.

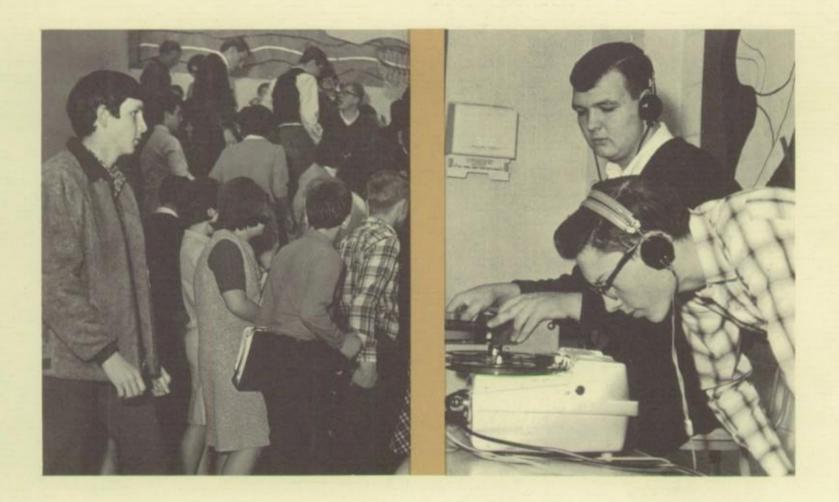

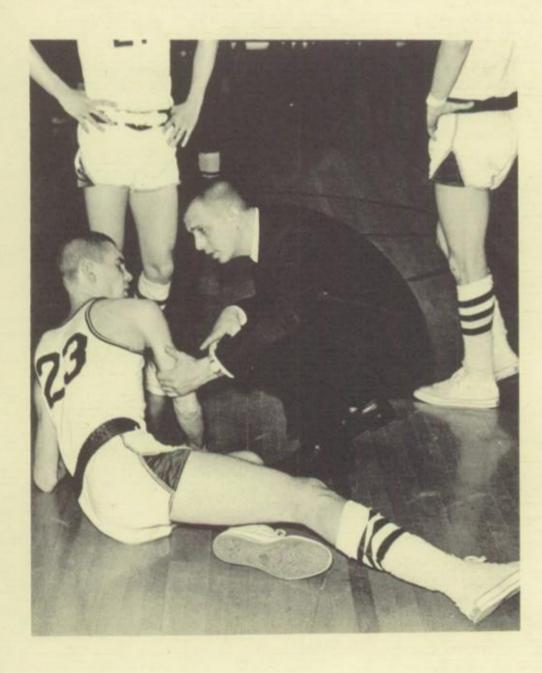

OAKLAND COUNTY COACH OF THE YEAR: Mr. Joe Duby

Individual Efforts Combine To Form Image of Kettering

Accomplishments of the group based upon those of each individual form a foundation for the school. In daily assignments or long-term projects, an impromptu skit or a rehearsed play, an intramural ball game or a hard-fought tournament game, separate efforts blur into an over all picture. When contributing to its betterment, we can be proud that at Waterford-Kettering there's a place for us.

In Academic Exploration

Through academics we prepare for our place in tomorrow's world. But assurance of our place in today's world gives self-confidence that makes achievement easier and greater. A sense of being a part of the classroom leads to increased and bolder academic explorations. In laughing with each other over common mistakes or triumphing together over a seemingly impossible assignment, we become aware of our place in Kettering. An ever widening curricula gives us the chance to elect familiar courses while exploring other interests to determine occupations.

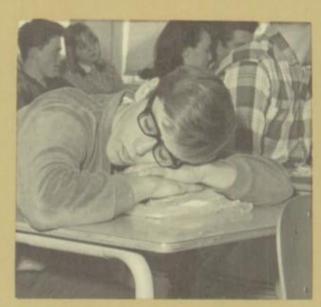

Attempting to work the problems on the challenging Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition, Frank Liimatta and Hal Powell struggle intensely onward.

"How does this thing work?" asks Fran Morhet.

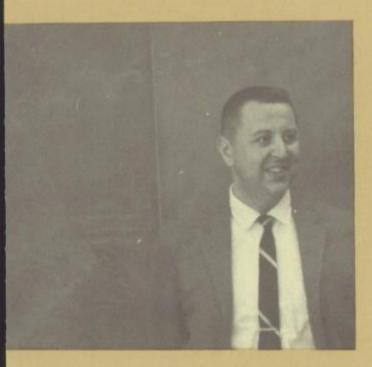

After slaving all night on his homework, Mike Patterson catches up on his sleep in Math class.

Mathematics Is Just Sheer Logic

Mathematics is sheer logic. Just ask any mathematics teacher who happens to have a B.A. in the subject. Aspiring Einsteins, however, seem to consider that point moot.

This year, as in years before, new math instructors were broken in (or down), and more experience dteachers went through the rigors of differentiating between logrithms and long division. Geometry, Algebra, Triginometry, and Business Math prompted scholars to spend long, trying study periods (if they could spare the five minutes between classes) in grueling calculations.

While team teaching, Mr. Poage drives home a point to Mr. Serbinoff.

No, Australia is not in Texas," says a confused Mr. Garland.

Social Studies Advances Methods

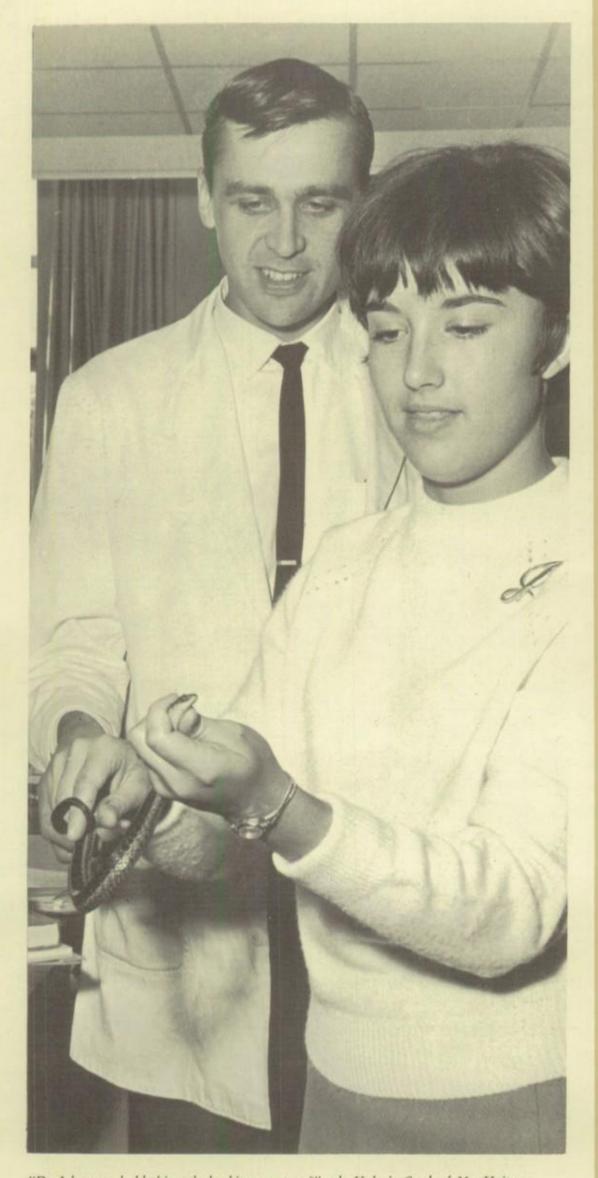

Working in close conjunction with each other, the W-K Social Studies staff helped students gain an essential understanding of world situations.

Other methods, besides the usual lectures and class discussions were used by teachers to prove their point. History came alive for students as they learned that stocks could be used today as they were in olden times.

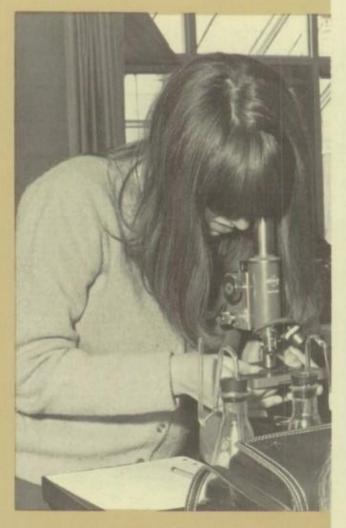

A minor was required in Social Studies with World Geography or Ancient History making up one semester; and American Government and American History fulfilling the rest of the requirement.

Evidence that history repeats itself, at least in matters of discipline, is offered by Sue Wade.

"Do I have to hold this ugly looking creature?" asks Valerie Cook of Mr. Heitzeg.

Trying to mix a "simple" formula in Chemistry is Pat Short.

"There's only a tree between us," exclaims Carol Freeland to Larry Thompson.

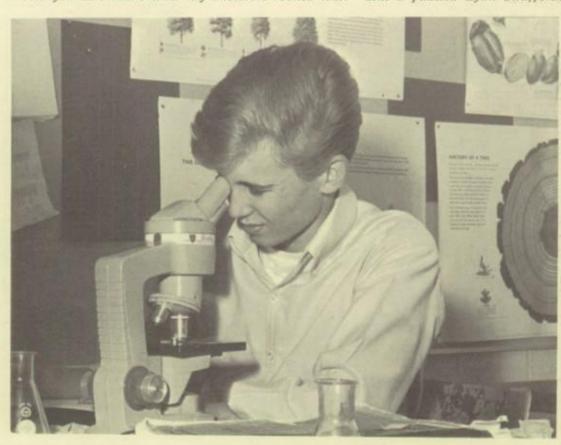

Unknowns of Science Made Known Through Exploration

From "simple" quiz-type test examinations to Chemistry "unknowns," Biology projects, and Physics lab reports, science classes were as challenging as students wanted to make them—or more so. An adage Chemistry students, especially those who flunked, will never forget is "Now is the time to learn your symbols and valences."

"Let me tell you bout the birds and the bees and the flowers and the trees and the moon up above and a thing called . . ." biology. Students, in learning about the birds, the bees, the flowers, and the trees, probed the innards of the frog and became intimate friends with a tree.

In trying to cope with Coulomb's Law, vectors, and momentum during Physics class, some students were allowed to use the computer. In class, it was not always apparent that the use of the computer simplified matters.

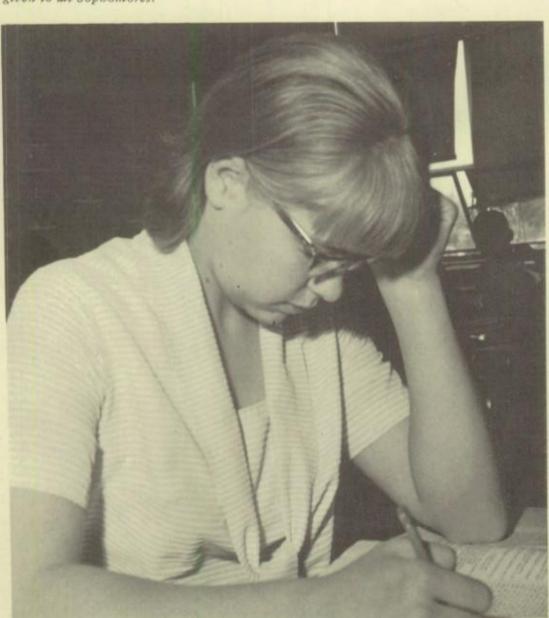

"Are you sure that's what my ancestors looked like?" asks a puzzled Lynn Swafford.

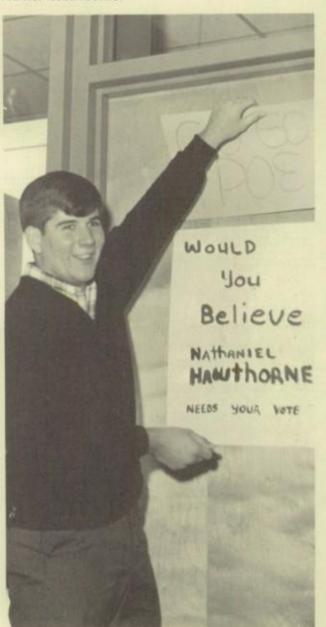

Marcia Reinhardt is surprised when Miss Goines, dressed as Santa Claus, tells her what her grade is.

Tearing down an opponent's sign is Bill Troeger, after winning Literary Giant disguised as Nathaniel Hawthorne.

Bill Daughty demonstrates the fine volume of the trumpet during his English III class.

English Experiments With New Methods

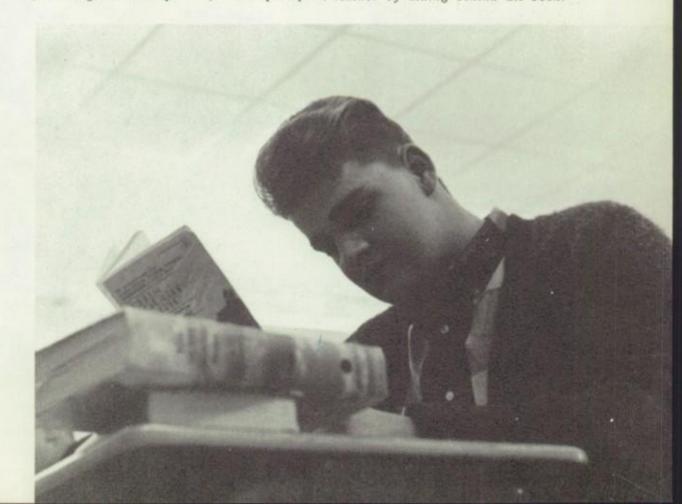

Providing the student body with a wide background in English was the main goal of the English Department.

Differing from the traditional style of teaching English, the individual study unit gave students a chance to explore areas of their interests. English was no longer simply a matter of learning verbs and participles. It was an opportunity to study ideas that transcend the ages, and to search for man's place in the world.

Jackie Lundgren demonstrates one of the many wonderful uses of crazy foam during Show and Tell.

Jim Hargraves attempts to fool his perceptive teacher by hiding behind his book.

After completing her first backward roll Nancy Hogart flashes a big smile.

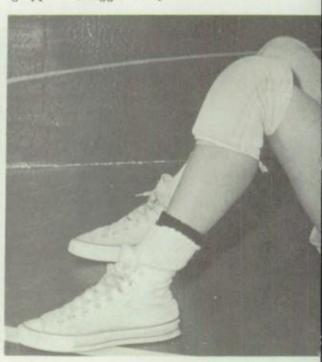

A group of 6th hour students receive an A after performing an original Swedish gymnastic routine.

Exhausting P.E. Not Always Murderous

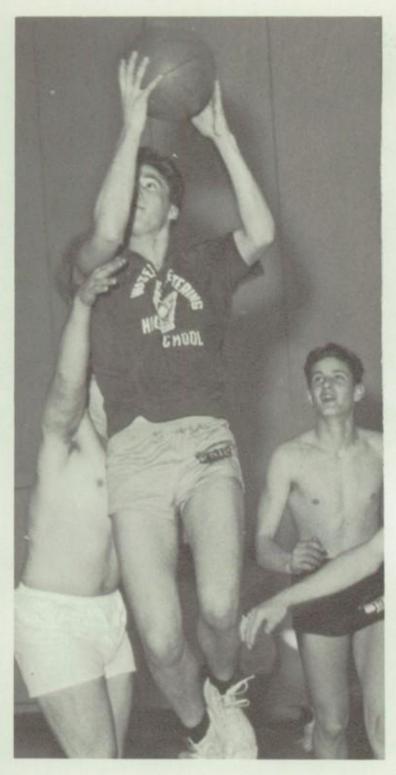

Attired in stylish blue gymsuits, Kettering's amazons displayed unequaled prowess in feminine athletic competition. Under the guidance of the SS squad (Stoney-Skillman) gawky, gangly gals who couldn't tell a goalie from a golf ball were miraculously transformed into graceful figures, galloping down the basketball court. Mats and balance beams suddenly became an integral part of the school day and the vaulting horse became a household word.

Spring came and so did softball, track and muddy playing fields. Once again the strains of high pitched cadence counts rent the air as girls gym classes took their calisthentics out of doors On the masculine side of the ledger, Messers Duby and Larkin led their teen-age Adronis' through the rigors of wrestling, basketball, football, and baseball.

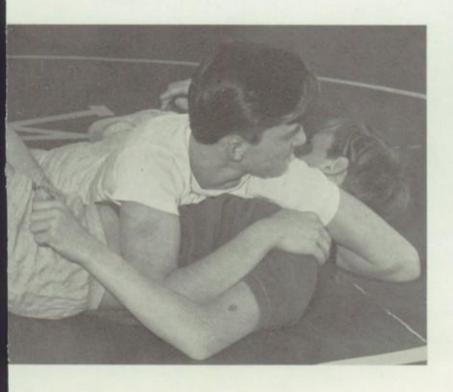

Looking disgusted after missing the ball is Donna Kaiser. Participating in the wrestling program, two grapplers struggle to pin each other.

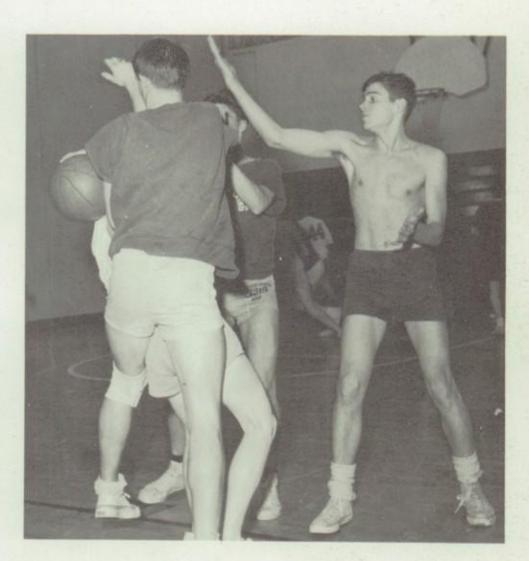

Despite the close guarding, Jim Stewart goes up for a shot while another classmate looks on.

Struggling for the ball, against bis classmates, is Chuck Huggins.

Fitting a smile over her frown, Karen Burton hopes Richard Rosen makes an even bigger mistake so she won't look so dumb.

Helping to put up a bulletin board in Latin class is Dave Verley.

Rick Boyle gives his microphone a puzzled look as something sounding more like Egyptian than French reaches his ears.

An uncomprehending Lynette Johnson gives Mr. Fleury a pleading look as she listens to the language tape in French I.

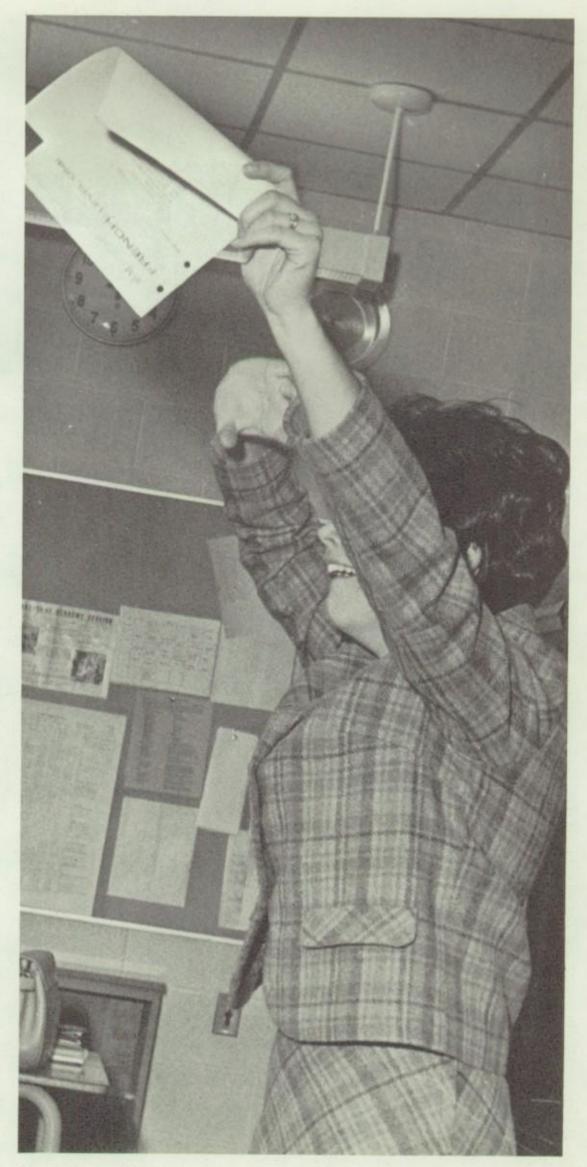

Through Language-A New Perspective

Olé! Vivé La Caesar! It's not exactly kosher unless a student happens to be taking Spanish, French, or Latin (and a mighty multilinguist he'd have to be!). However, since most students who pursue languages have trouble enough with the English language alone, much less those of a foreign nature, they usually limit themselves to one or two of the offered European tongues.

Protegees of the Spanish classes, after a year of distinguishing between one and uno, looked forward to their summer Mexican trip. At last they finally could put their hard earned translation abilities to practical use.

Kettering's Pierres and Maries worked diligently on perfecting their accents and sharpening their knowledge. No voyage to France loomed on the horizon, but the student's French studies brough the gay land of Paree to their classroom.

"Veni, vidi, vici" expresses well the attitude of Latin scholars as they plunged through the tongue of the Caesars. Kettering's Latin department became Rome incarnate as students delved into the ancient languages. Who said Latin was dead? Anyway?

Mrs. LeDuc, a dedicated foreign language teacher, goes to extremes to make her point in class.

Art Students

Rod Lawrence contemplates the abstract he has created from colored foil.

Leroy Sexton, Bill Dubay, and Joan Allen decorate a showcase with weird sun interpretations.

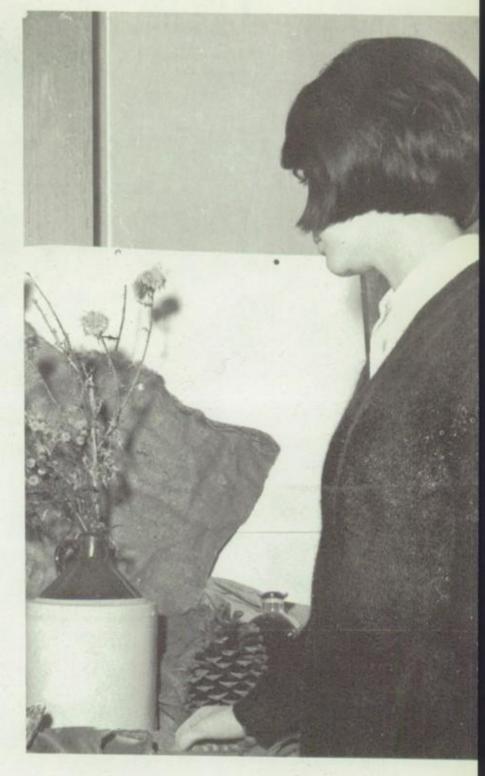

Gain Experience in Design

Amid the domain of spattered clay, spilled turpentine, chalk dust, and delicately smelling liver or sulfur solutions, the Arts and Crafts Department was the training ground for Kettering's would-be Picassos and De Vincis.

Under the Brockman-Seeburger alliance, budding artists and artisans dabbled in anything from water colors to weaving, as they progressed through Art I-IV and Crafts. If they survived the basics of art education, the students trudged on to areas with a broader range of creativity.

In what chaotic situation would our school organizations find themselves if the Art Department wasn't there to allot choice space for posters on a fair basis? Or what would unartistic teachers have done without eager Art III and IV students to turn bulletin boards into things of beauty? Alas, without the dedicated protegees of Rooms 502 and 504 our paint spattered institution might indeed have collapsed in a vast uncreative heap.

Dismantling a small engine, Mark Hancock and Ken French work swiftly as Jim Fiss practices by himself.

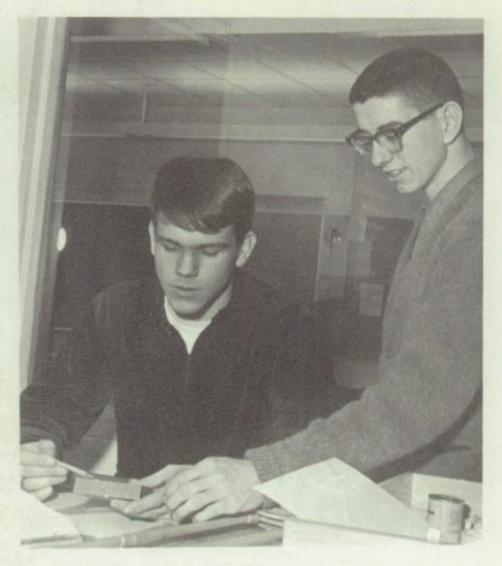

"If looks could kill . . ." thinks Mr. Griffith as his sizzling glance stops a student's amusing stunt.

Pointing out the various components of an engine is Mr. Huber while Steve Metheny, Don Vincent and Dimitrie Toth observe.

Practice in griding is gained by Chuck Morse as he tests his skill on a metal strip.

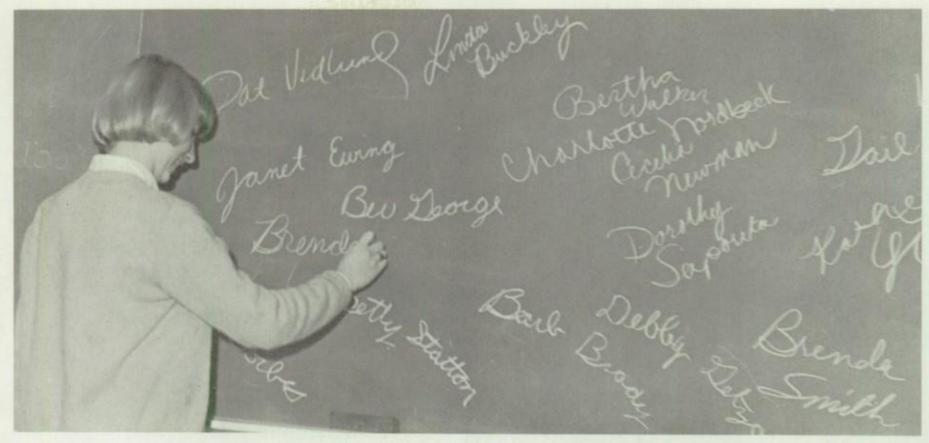

Student-aides Ed Smith and Paul Atkins compare the finished part for a drafting machine with the blueprint of it spread out before them.

Carefully sanding the finish of a table are Mike Dowlan and Danny Cooper who hope that their hard effort pays off in smooth surface and a good grade.

An intricate engine or even a block of wood was a challenge for the Industrial Arts students. Despite smashed fingers, shattered wood blocks and broken pencil leads, both novices and near professionals struggled on. The teacher took great pride in the boys as they attacked an engine in hopes of dismantling and reassembling it. Successfully making a bowl from a block of wood without sawing off one single masculine finger was just one major accomplishment. Though a few accidents did occur, it must be admitted that all industrial art scholars withstood all obstacles and gained from their experiences.

With the announcement of Miss Sally Thomas' engagement to Mr. Fassbender, the sixth hour Shorthand I Class write congratulations,

"Dear Sirs:" Characterizes Arduous Business Courses

All facets of business education were covered by the students of W-K in the well-planned business department, including modern courses involving, computer and data processing machines.

The typing students pecked their way through the jungle of words in time to music, while pre-retailing students learned to duck the cash drawer. All the courses in between such as shorthand, office machines, and unit records learned to cope with those problems which went with the course.

While taking a shorthand exam, Linda Buckley and Beverly George exhibit deep concentration.

Using the adding machine, Faye Graf makes the finishing touches on her homework.

Gonnie Davis hurriedly finished the last question before bookkeeping class starts.

Co-op Year Climaxed by Eastern Michigan Trip

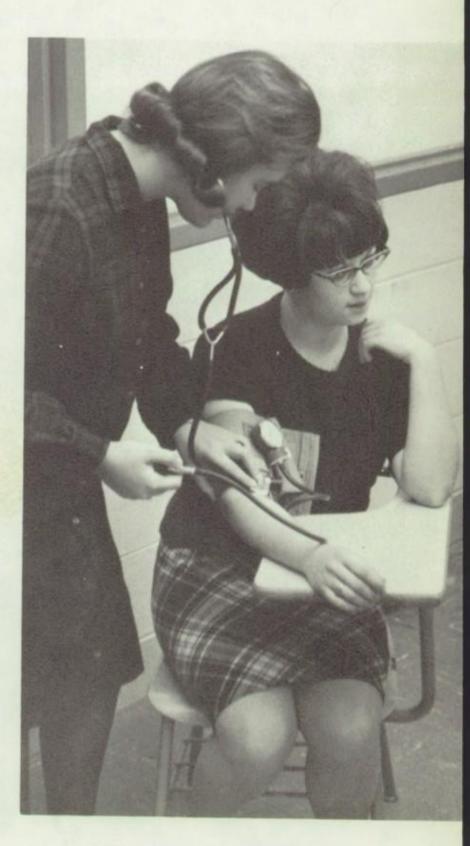

With classes such as Typing, Office Machines, Pre-Retailing and Industial shops behind them, Co-Op students went forth into the world of high finance. However, most found that the actual work was not only more challenging, but also more rewarding.

Students earned credit and experience in such areas as office, health related, retailing, trade and industrial occupations. While employers graded their students on their ability to perform during their job, teachers graded them on their performance in the classroom.

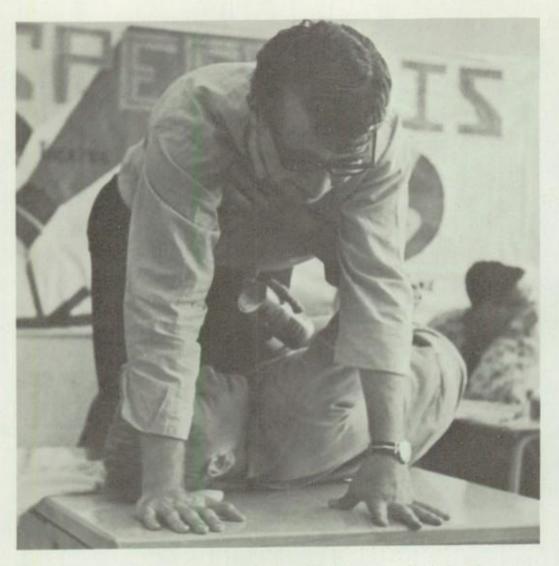

The year's highlightwas a trip to Eastern University for the National Co-Op Convention. The students sponsored by Mr. Koski, Co-Op cordinator, spent the entire day in meetings with students from all parts of the state.

Dog shampooing. Ever tried it? One sophomore speech class undertook the task but lack of a canine guinea pig created a problem. Imaginative thinking on the part of speech scholars quickly remedied the situation with the substitution of a Homo sapiens for the leading role.

Kettering speech contestants, under Miss Looman and Mr. Chaffee, took the usual honors, while public address system proteges took fits just before announcement time.

Play Production classes put on the assemblies for the enjoyment of the students. Techniques they had learned were applied to the production of the children's play.

Band Brings Home Best Rating Ever in State Competition

Hup 2-3-4, 1-2-3, kick down! And the W-K marching band started its 66-67 season in just that manner. Besides members presenting perfected grid-iron breathers, they astounded their conductor, Mr. Fetter, with their concerts.

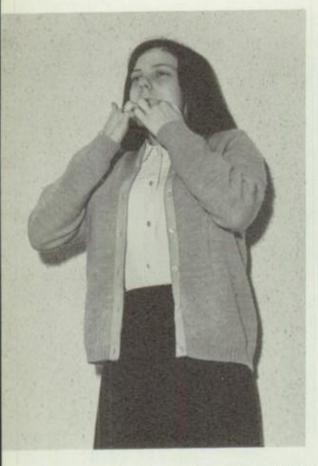

Besides the W-K marching and symphony bands, these loyal members plowed through long practices of pep and stage bands where their effort showed at home basketball games and other social activities. But the hardworking band did not stop there! They went on to introduce the junior highs to the wonderful world of high school band.

Band members co-operated with the school in requests and made Kettering known through many outside activities such as the Band Festival, where several members brought home one ratings.

At the Spring Concert, Rafael Mendez appeared as guest trumpeter, encouraging the entire band to find a place for themselves in the great world of music. Vocal Concerts Rate High at WK

Before a concert Mrs. Hunt briefs the Choir on sound quality.

Mixing fun and laughs with learning the fine qualities of music were the students of the Vocal Music Department. Attempting to teach them these all-important basics was Mrs. Hunt, teacher, leader, and side-kick. Consisting of a cappella choir, mixed chorus, and girl's chorus, the Vocal Music Department presented three concerts during the school year. To add a special attraction, Gleemen and two Girl's Ensembles were chosen from the best vocies of the a cappella choir. The two Girl's Ensembles and the Gleemen were highly rated in competition at the Ensembles Festival at Pontiac Northern High School.

The Choir's Officers for this year are, Pete Morgan, Vice President; Wanda Quartermouse, Treasurer; Mona Arseneau, Historian; Barb Hendricks, Secretary; and Mike Thompson, President.

There Is a Place for Us

In Extracurricular Events

In a myriad organizations and special events there is a place for us. The exhilaration of being an active part, the enjoyment of being with those we like, or just the fun of being a guest in the audience, are all a part of student life.

Finding others with similar interests and sharing with them helps develop well-rounded students and leads to a deeper realization that there is a place for us.

Council Members Take Action

Jim Appling, Tim Sullivan, Terry Mosher and Tom Schraw, Council representatives, devote every bit of their spare time to the leaves in the court.

Learn, listen and take action. As representatives of the student body, the Student Council works for the betterment of the school and community. They learn the problem, listen to opinions and take action to solve.

The most extravagant of the year's festiviities was homecoming. The "Bewitched" theme was carried out by wandering black cats, witches and pumpkins. Weeks of strenuous planning and construction certainly paid off.

Officers contributing to Student Council this year were: President, Kent Aeschliman; Vice President, Hal Powell; Corresponding Secretary, Mary Muse; Recording Secretary, Anita Freeland; and Treasurer, Sue Ringler.

Council Involved In Varied Projects

Introducing a new tradition this year to Kettering's student activities was a "Basket Ball" initiated by the Student Council.

Reigning over the informal dance honoring W-K's basketball team was the most school spirited, all-round girl elected by the entire student body. This year's Miss Basketball was Cathy Frayer.

The profits from the dance went towards the School to School Drive which helped W-K move near their $1,000 goal.

Under the direction of the Student Council, W-K homerooms once again combined their efforts to make the Christmas Basket drive a total success.

Assemblies Educate, Entertain Audiences

In the true spirit of education, W-K provided entertaining and worthwhile assemblies.

Orientation assembly aided the sophomores to become acquainted with their new school while pep assemblies promoted school spirit.

Variety in assemblies aroused more interest from the student body. The plays and holiday assemblies were very entertaining; for those of us that are music minded, the choir and band assemblies were ideal and the talent assembly was presented for the enjoyment of all. State Police Sergeant Harold Wade, talked about traffic safety, and the honor student convocation and foreign exchange assembly proved to have much educational value.

Voicing her opinion on how to improve school spirit at the Student Attitude Assembly, is Elaine Getzmeyer.

Students Spend Two Hours with "Taming of the Shrew"

Dave Swain and Kathy Evdis rehearse a skit within the play, "Rally Round the Flag, Boys."

Travelling to New York City for theatre trip was some reward for the conscientious work produced by the Dramatics Club. Directed by two dedicated sponsors, Miss Looman and Mr. Chaffe, and a fine group of officers, the stagemasters gave three magnificent plays. The first play, "Rally Round the Flag Boys" was given in December. Following this was "Taming of the Shrew" and "Man Who Came to Dinner". The Dramatics Club also sponsored a variety show early in the year.

Thespians Teach The Art of Dramatics to Beginners

Rodney Reinhart tries to tame Bonnie Bone in "Taming of the Shrew."

After earning a total of thirty-five points as a sophomore or twenty as a junior or senior, a Dramatics Club member becomes a Thespian. Points are earned by participating in a play or by helping in the production of the play. Each year there are two or three initiations where the prospective Thespians are subject to impromptu skits to entertain the audience. To learn from the mistakes of others the Thespians visited different schools to observe the good and bad points of each play.

Officers of the Thespians are: Bill Fraser, President; Pete Teeuwissen, Vice President; Rosemary Manganello, Secretary-Treasurer; and Sally Hunter, Pledge Master. Vehemently protesting his opponent's oration, Pete Teewissen argues the negative points.

Mike Roberts and John Grambau spend much time in the library preparing for oncoming debates.

Industrious Debaters Win Five Out of Eight and Third Place Finish in West Oakland League

Giving Sue Caswell some encouraging advice on her speech is Miss Looman, Debate Coach.

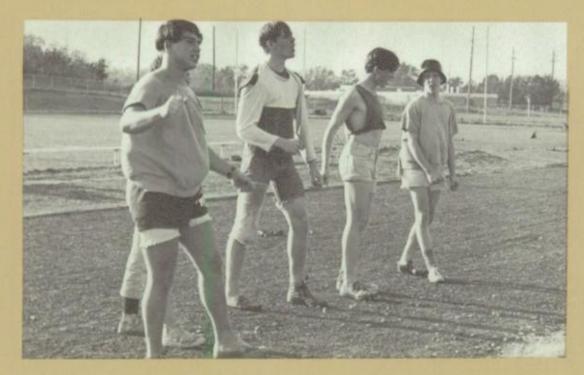

Coached by Miss Looman, Waterford Kettering debaters went on to victory by finishing with a successful season. The thirty-four industrious debaters brought honor to our school by winning district honors and placing third in the West Oakland League. In winning five out of eight in the state league the Captains qualified for the regionals, where, despite an enormous amount of effort, they were defeated. The topic for this year was, Resolved: The Foreign Aid Program Should be Limited to Non-Military Assistance.

Among the most successful debaters were Jon Gambau, Pete Teeuwissen, Mike Roberts, Steve T. Peterson and Jerry Fireman.

Close Contest Climaxes Weeks of Arduous Practice

Looks of horror arise on seniors as the juniors stampede toward the goal line.

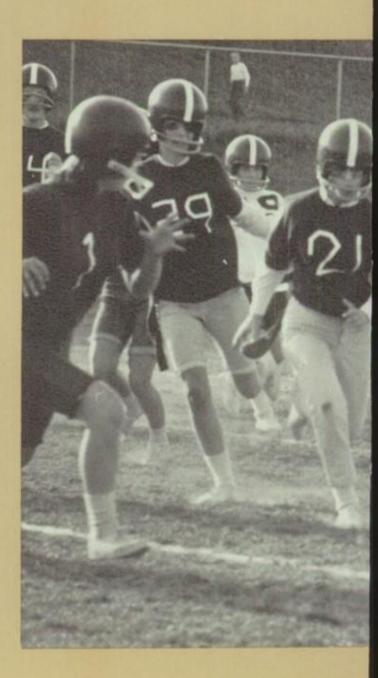

Wanting to get into the act, Mike Borer, Dennis Wilson, Bryan Robinson, and Tom Balkwell become boy cheerleaders.

On a sunny afternoon the Powder Puff football players made their debut. Two weeks of pulled muscles, scraped knees and tousled hair readied the junior and senior teams for combat.

Sue Strohmeyer began the senior drive with a seventy yard razzle-dazzle double reverse that put the seniors on the board. To double the score, Renee Mosher, senior quarterback, swept around the left end after first running into her own halfback. Soon after, steady Sue Strohmeyer ran over the right end for the extra point, exciting the senior coaches, Miss Stoney and Miss Huerstel.

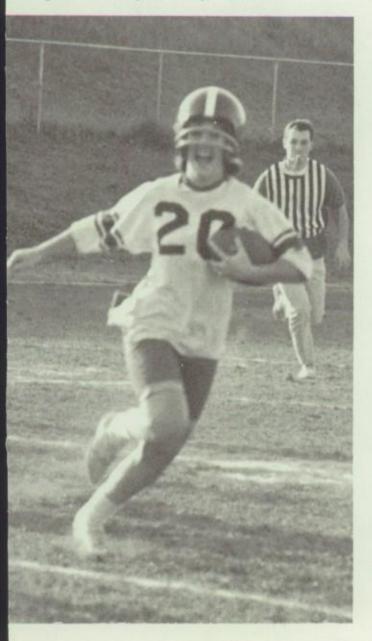

Under the supervision of Mrs. Skillman the juniors decided not to be outdone. Pam Godoshein scored both touchdowns, but the extra point earned by the seniors made it a senior victory, 13-12.

Junior coach, Mrs. Skillman, anxiously watches her girls as they put into practice what she has strived to teach them.

Sheer bliss reflects on Rene Mosher's face as she gains control of the ball for the seniors.

Hoping for a senior victory as they take a rest are Anita Freeland, Pam Scruggs, and Taffy Wilson.

Anticipating the up-coming game are junior athletes Sue Squires, Ruth Vancil, Kathy Adams, and Diane Kampsen.

Varsity Cheerleaders Display Skill and Sportsmanship

Spirit, enthusiasm, and determination all went into making this year's varsity cheerleading squad a successful one. They started the year by attending a summer camp sponsored by the United States Cheerleading Association. Their many months of hard work previous to the conference paid off, because they returned with a second place trophy and the first place individual award won by Sue Welch. This experience was found so rewarding that the girls sponsored several fund-raising activities for the purpose of sending next year's cheerleaders to camp. But the most satisfaction came from cheering two outstanding teams, in both football and basketball, to countless victories.

The familiar clapping beat of W-K's favorite cheer is heard at almost every game.

Geni Burns, a graduate cheerleader, helps Anita Freeland and Pam Scruggs decorate the goal posts before the Homecoming game.

Paulette Andress does the motions of one of her favorite songs.

The Varsity cheerleaders are proud to perform their award-winning pom-pom routine.

Sue Aeschliman and Hazel Goodwin display looks of disappointment as Clarkston hands the J.V.'s their first defeat.

Carol Freeland, co-captain, displays much enthusiasm during her first year of cheerleading.

JV Cheerleaders Learn to Control Enthusiastic Crowds

The JV cheerleaders enjoy cheering with the Varsity squad between basketball games.

Belonging to this year's Junior Varsity cheerleading squad was the perfect beginning for a high school career. The seven girls learned to practice leadership and responsibility in keeping up with the high standard of Waterford Kettering. Along with the Varsity squad they helped to promote spirit and enthusiasm in school and during the games. Their many hours of hard work was obvious as they displayed new and original cheers.

"We've got the ball, and we're gonna go" says. Lynn Bachelor, captain, as the JV's look strong.

Pep Club Helps Promote Kettering's Outstanding Spirit

During basketball games Pep Club enthusiastically supports our winning team. The pep! The pep! We've got it, so keep it, don't lose it, we need it. The pep! And nobody has more pep than the Pep Club. They're the backbone of our cheering sections at all football and basketball games, and they support all campaigns and extracurriculur activities. But besides being the mainstay of enthusiasm at Kettering they take part in many worthwhile activities. Sponsoring spectator buses and making posters are only a few of these. All in all, a lot can be said for this years Pep Club.

"Aaaugh," groans Janet Nutter as she strains her muscles to capacity in setting up the trampoline.

Feminine Athletes Find Fun and Excitement in G.A.A.; Letter Club

Each Tuesday, exciting sports such as tennis, basketball, field hockey and powder puff football, were enjoyed by members of G.A.A. and G.A.A. Letter Club.

G.A.A., sponsored by Miss Stoney, has sold pom-poms to earn money for various activities they endulge in. After a girl earns 85 points, she may become a member of G.A.A. Letter Club which is sponsored by Mrs. Skillman.

For the second consecutive year, G.A.A. has sponsored a Powder Puff football game which was a smashing success.

This year's Letter Club Members are: Row 1: Sandy Postle, Treasurer; Cathy Frayer, President; Rosemary Smiley, Patty Atkins; Pam Godoshian. Row 2: Taffy Wilson; Debbie Baer; Vonnie Frack; Sue Collins; Sally Ballard; Cheryl Bryan; Lynn Hammond, Secretary; Sue Rose.

Vonnie Frack demonstrates her adept "skill" and "grace" at baskethall.

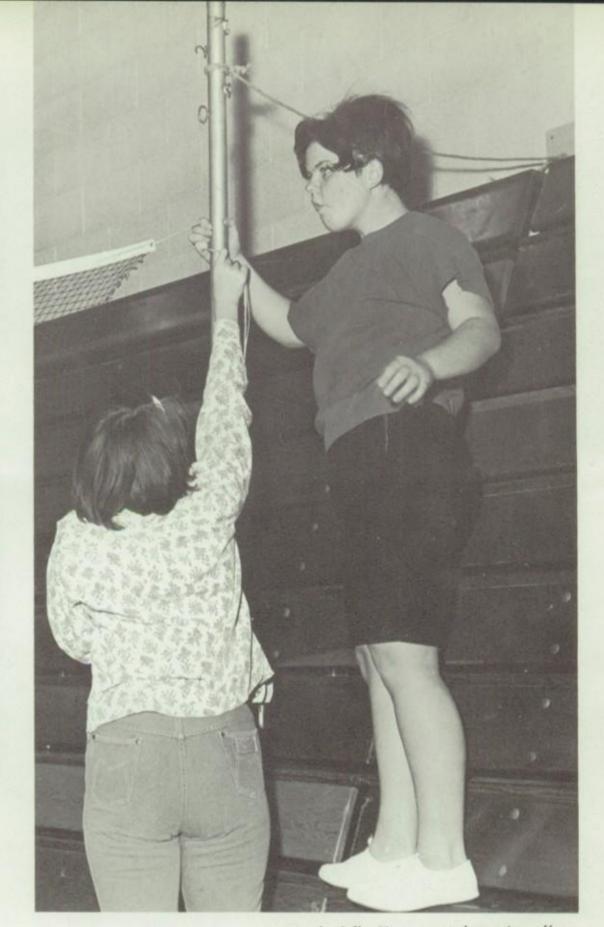

Miss Terrific, who in her everyday role as mildmannered Rosemary Smiley, fights an unending war on fire in the johns.

Miss Huerstel, taking over for Miss Stoney one afternoon, is framed by the legs of some unknown "exerciserupper."

"A pretty girl is like me," hums Miss Stoney as she supervises a girl volley-ball game.

"Oooh, Sally Hunter get that string off my fingers . . . it hurts," cries Sandy Postle.

Miss Guevara during Letter Club-Faculty game shows outstanding form while teammates and opponents look on. The faculty won 32-28.

Varsity Club Members Rate Outstanding in School Spirit

Waterford Kettering Varsity Club members put their talent to work this year, as representatives of the school, and have rated as outstanding in the field of school spirit and leadership.

Under the guidance of sponsor, Mr. Robinson and the leadership of president Ralph Windler, Vice President Dave Moilanen, Secretary Jerry Beseau, Treasurer Dan Giroux, and Sergeant-at-Arms Mike Mobey, the club performs numerous duties on and around Ketterings campus.

Through the sale of refreshments at school activities and the distributing of football and basketball programs at games, the letter winners get a chance to put money into the school athletic fund.

What's the drippiest club around? Swim Club, of course!

Sponsored by Miss Feltzer, anywhere from 30 to 50 students with water wings show up Sunday at Oakland University for an hour of delirious fun and as of this writing not one has been lost.

For the price of one Big Boy anyone can join the fun. OH! If you see a girl walking down the hall Monday with straight hair and a smile it's probably one of the satisfied members.

Overworked, Underpaid, Cry of Slave Driven Aides

Making the life of a teacher more leisurely are Kettering's hardworking helpers. These students volunteer their services from study halls to assist the staff in many phases of school life.

Working behind the scenes are, office and library helpers, gym, lab, and audio visual assistants, hall monitors and student aides. Studying is not uncommon in their spare time.

All in all they are a great boon for our faculty. So when are they going to get paid? (ha, ha)

Interest of Students Acts as a Therapy for Hospital Teens

Unselfish students willingly gave their time each month to entertain and be entertained by the younger generation of the state hospital. Teens of the institution enjoyed fun and refreshments as did volunteers.

Students found some rough competition in games such as ping pong, pool, cards, and bingo; pleasure in listening to a patient sing and play his own accompaniment, and enjoyment in learning the latest dance steps.

As the evening came to an end, the volunteers waved a reluctant good-by and felt a warm glow as their new friends began looking forward to W-K's next visit. Going over some "rough spots" in dealing with hospital teens are Mrs. Long and Debby Stirman.

Future Teachers Gain Experience in Cadet Teaching

Learning some of the duties in the teacher's routine is Mary Lou Marino.

The main object of the Future Teachers Club was to give students who are planning to teach the opportunity to learn the techniques of teaching. Cadet teaching at several elementary schools gave students experience in teaching before entering college Throughout the year the future teachers were able to hear speakers from various colleges. Sponsored by Mr. Kaminskis, the future teachers attended a statewide Future Teacher's Day at Eastern Michigan University.

Among the most active future teachers were Mary Lou Marino, Chairman; Judy Edwards, Secretary-Treasurer; Karen Firman, Billie Holcomb, Sonia Martin, Linda Berry, Janet Collom, and Sue Caswell.

Honorary Society Receives Scholars in Solemn Ceremony

Those students chosen by the faculty for their scholastic abilities, leadership, citizenship, and character became National Society members. Formal induction took place during the Honors Convocations Assembly with the solem candlelit procession.

Four per cent of the Junior class was eligible for election. If those students elected in their Junior year maintained the high standards of the society, they were eligible for re-election as Seniors. Science, Math Inclined Students Explore Interests Through Clubs

Use of the physics lab was open to students with science interests through the Science Seminar sponsored by Miss Feltzer. Projects, demonstrations, and discussions at meetings ranged over a larger area than possible in class.

Students interested in math had a chance to join a math club organized by Mr. Koehler. A math contest, which sponsors Mr. Cole, Mr. Spicer and Mr. Koehler hope will become annual, was held with Pontiac Central. Competition was in the categories of History, Circles, Graphing, Vectors, Limits, Problem Solving, and Slide Rule with the winning school receiving a trophy.

Wonderful Town Portrayed by WK's Wonderful Faculty

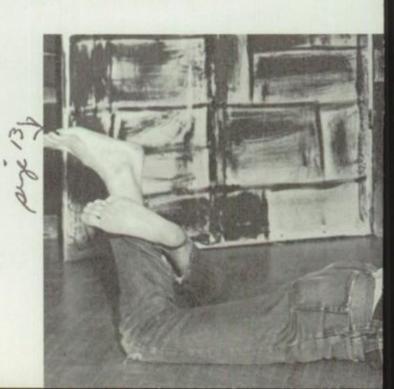

When taken out of her daily role of teacher, Miss Maryann Feltzer is made to look like a sexy beatnik.

"Wonderful Town", a musical based on the play "My Sister Eileen", is the second musical produced by the Waterford-Kettering faculty. The play was taken from a book written by Joseph Chodorov, the music was written by Leonard Bernstein, and the lyrics by Betty Comden and Adolph Green. Miss Patty Looman directed the production, and the following faculty members had the singing leads: Miss Kersteiner, Miss Looman, Mr. Hubbell, Mr. Perry, Mr. Huber, Mr. Heitzeg, and Mr. Schmidt. "Wonderful Town" was about two sisters who, in the 1930's, moved from their hometown in Ohio, and settled down in Greenwich Village.

Kettering's Students Dream Up Different Dance Ideas

Inspired by a favorite song, Steve T. Peterson and his partner Linda McClune swing out at one of the popular after game dances.

Tired of the 'same ole dances,' Kettering students brought new ideas into view. To raise money for the school to be built in Tanzanià and to hold an original midwinter dance, students organized a "Basket Ball" with a Miss Basketball being chosen by the student body. Miss Basketball, Cathy Frayer, received one dozen long-stemmed yellow roses, a charm, and a ribbon.

Seniors sponsored a Battle of the Bands in which five bands were featured. Enthusiastically attended, especially because Kettering teams won so many games, were the after-game dances.

Looking forward to a night out, Joan Allen tapes records for an upcoming dance.

Common Interest in Spain Brings Students Together

Forming the Spanish Club this year are Miss Guevara and Miss Salchow as sponsors, Pat Baker as President, Sue Collins as Vice-President, Ona Lee as Secretary, and several students interested in the language and customs of Spain.

Planned for the year are trips to see a Mexican Ballet and Flamingo Dancers in Detroit, learning how to make Spanish food, and a trip to a Mexican Restaurant, then a Mexican Movie.

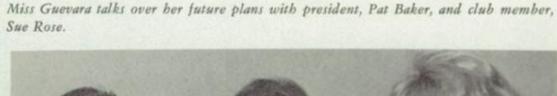

Christmas was celebrated Spanish style by the members. Along with refreshments the traditional pinata (paper mache bull filled with candy) was broken by a blindfolded student.

Strange Lands Pose Problems for Exchange Students

Dreams do come true according to six W-K students who traveled abroad last summer. Sue Berden and Mike Roberts spent the summer in Denmark. Debbie Sayers visited Germany while Sue Ringler saw the land of the Swedes. Karen Alexander and Sue Rose had many chances to use their Spanish during their stay in Chile. Although all students stayed in different countries, all faced one common problem — adjusting to the particular customs and ways of life.

After a long and dreary forty-five hour ride, Marja Bijleveld arrived in Detroit to be greeted by her American family, the Lyle Roses. Marja, an avid ski fan, was a member of the W-K ski team.

Miss Salcow sponsored Foreign Exchange Club which held moneymaking projects to aid future exchange students.

Working hand in hand to make the yearbook and Navigator more interesting was the major responsibility of the journalism department.

A Great Pumpkin Throne Smiled on Enchanted Evening

Leading off the coronation dance are this year's royalty, Sue Welch and Jack McCloud.

Pumpkins and witches highlighted the theme "Bewitched" for the Fifth Annual Homecoming Dance, October 29 from 8-11.

King Jack McCloud and Queen Sue Welch took their place on a pumpkin throne to be crowned by last year's royality, Rick Mc-Partlin and Mikki Belisle.

The student body and alumni danced to the bewitching sounds of Tommy Baldwin and his Orchestra.

Cider and donuts were served in the cafeteria where candle-lit pumpkins provided a mysterious atmosphere.

"Death in Three Speeds" Opens Unforgettable Weekend

"Clem," otherwise known as mild-mannered cheerleader, Sue Welch, shows a look of astonishment as she is announced homecoming queen.

Although it was windy, Marcia Steehler, Jan Johnson, Carole Richardson, Sue Welch, and Sue Ringler smile and wave happily at the crowd.

Genie Burns, Donna Gould, and Mikki Belisle, class of '66 cheerleaders, returned to cheer with this year's squad.

The poor Kettle family answered Clem's questions about a victory with, "No," and were gunned down in 33-1/3, 45, and 78 speeds.

Vigorous clapping and exciting cheering at the Homecoming Assembly opened an eventful week-end of Waterford-Kettering's 5th annual Homecoming. Students and faculty laughed hilariously at the varsity cheerleader's 3-speed skit. Mr. Larkin introduced the football players and the powder-puff football teams were introduced. The assembly came to an end with everyone on their way to the powder-puff football game.

Witches, black cats, and pumpkins decorated the football field Saturday afternoon at the Homecoming game, as floats paraded past the fascinated spectators. The Sophomore float managed to win first place. The Dramatics Club took second and the Seniors third.

After the parade of floats, the Queen and her Court were escorted on the field as the band formed a crown and played "Her Majesty."

No, she's not praising the rain god! Cheerleader, Beverly George plays the narrator in the homecoming skit.

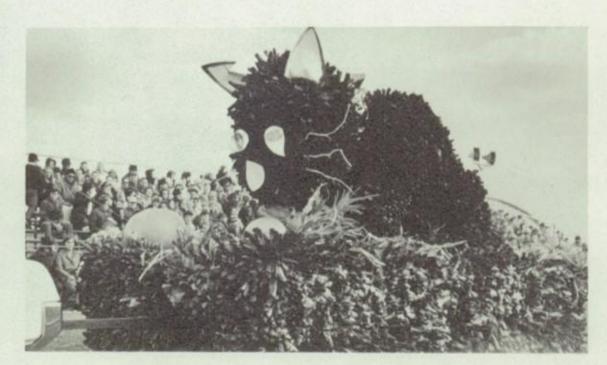

The band played and the spectators cheered as Mr. Fry presented Queen Sue Welch with a bouquet of mums.

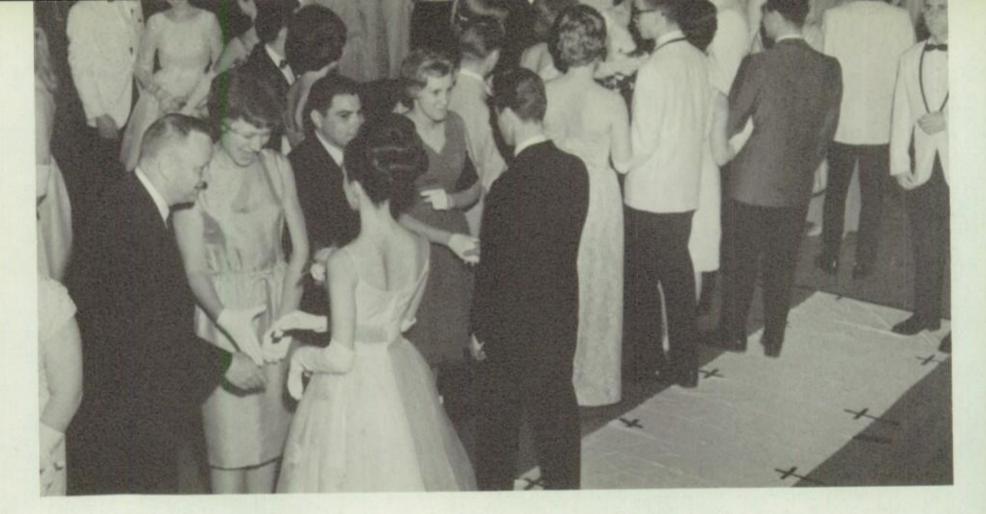

"Boil the Lancers" was the theme of the Sophomores first place float.

"It really is true! There is a great pumpkin!" The Dramatics Club float won second in the float contest.

The spectators were not frightened as the Senior's big black cat crossed their paths to win third place in the contest.

On the morning and afternoon of June third both senior boys and girls were busy preparing for the biggest social event of the year, the Senior Prom. When evening arrived the customary dress of the student body was transformed to elegant gowns and sophisticated tuxedoes.

Decorated with the theme "Underwater Fantasy," the gym, usually filled with energetic athletes, became an enchanting ball-room. Couples danced to the music of John and the Elegants with the fresh fragrance of corsages overwhelming them.

Holding on to the pole for support, Sue Rose experiences her first subway ride.

Four unforgettable days were spent by the class of '67 as they enjoyed one last trip together. After leaving Kettering on buses, they boarded a jet at Detroit, bound for New York City.

Upon their arrival, they checked in at the Hotel New Yorker, freshened up, and were ready to venture into the big city.

Highlights of the trip included seeing a Broadway play, tours of China Town, Radio City Music Hall, Greenwich Village, and plenty of spare time for sightseeing and shopping.

Two candy sales helped ease the cost of this worthwhile trip.

Taking leave from the bustle and bustle of city life, Kettering seniors paused to admire the view from a skyscraper.

WK Students Also Outstanding Members of Community

What do students do after the school doors close at 2:30? Some go home, but others are engaged in extra-curricular activities outside the school. Some students compete as professionals or amatuers in various sports or activities. Others help with outside groups, take part in contests or elections, and hold offices in "Young Peoples" organizations.

Many Kettering students find enjoyment in just tearing around. But it's a great feeling to endulge in activities. Why not try it?

Graduation Memorable

for Kettering Seniors

As sophomores students dream of the long awaited day they will walk up the platform and receive their honors and diplomas. As the junior year begins students receive their class rings, an important event because students now have visible evidence that they are part of the same class.

All is anti-climatic when graduation finally arrives. Justly proud, graduates clutch their diplomas with a greater self-assurance that they are prepared to face the challenging world.

There Is a Place for Us In Athletic Competitions

In Athletic competition there is a place for each of us. Boys and girls willing to devote time and effort find they gain more than they give; in strength and stamina, in ability that grows with self confidence, and in developing a team attitude.

Working in close conjunction with others they reach the realization that there is a place for us.

Captains Fight Way to Undefeated Year

History was made by the Captains as they boasted an undefeated season, the first in Waterford Township. The mighty Captains finished with an 8-0-1 record and were rated sixteenth in the state.

Most Valuable Player, Ken McLean, brought other honors to Kettering by becoming its first All-Stater. Tri-Captains, Ken McLean, Dick Miceli, and Bob VonBargen received All-County and All-Conference honors as did junior, Gene Brunner. Miceli, leading passer, set a new record by passing for 1400 yards and 13 touchdowns. In the Port Huron game he passed for 375 yards and four touchdowns.

The best team effort by the Captains was the Waterford game. Junior, Gene Brunner moved the ball 25 times for 175 yards, Mc-Lean blocked a punt, and Miceli intercepted a pass and went for a touchdown, to beat the Skippers 20-6.

Jerry Harkey attempts a touchdown in spite of Waterford players.

JV's Fight Way to Winning Season

Harry Booker (81) rushes the receiver as Ron Waldrup moves into position to intercept a pass.

Coaches Tom Bryce and George Beohm led the J.V. team to a winning season of 5 wins and 4 losses.

After a first game win over Port Huron Northern, the J.V.'s were pulled back with two losses to North Farmington and Romeo. Not letting two defeats depress them, the team dropped bombs on Southfield 33-0 and Oxford 27-0.

Using both a running and passing offense they plowed into the game with W.T.H.S. and came out with a gratifying victory, a winning season for the J.V.'s, and a Waterford series record of 4 wins and 2 losses.

Ron Hall Heads Cross Country As Leading Runner

Stamina, strength and ability are needed to be a successful cross country runner. Runners have to finish the two miles of the track and try to finish first.

During training the boys ran approximately six miles a day. The strategy of the team, according to coach Roger Johnson, was to "run fast."

Senior lettermen on the team were Mark Tallenger, captain; Rick Chidester and Joe Pendergrass. Other lettermen were Russ White, Jim Willing, Roger Scarlotti and Joe LaMarbe.

Although this season's record of one win and eight losses was not the best, hopes are high for a better season next year. With sophomore Ron Hall, the teams leading runner, returning, next year looks promising.

W-K Captains Capture Tri-County Championship, Undefeated Season And Fifth Place in State Ratings

Stressing strong defense and balanced offense, the Waterford-Kettering Captains rolled to an undefeated season and the Tri-County Championship. Under the direction of Coach Joe Duby, the Captains finished the season fifth in the state.

Paced by Most Valuable Player in the League and All Conference member Dave Cox; and fellow All-Conference members Dick Miceli, Bob Von Bargen, Jack McCloud, and Pete Evans, the rampaging Captains compiled a final 17-1 record. Tight defense held season opponents to an average of only 46 points, while the hot shooting offense scored at a 74 points per game pace.

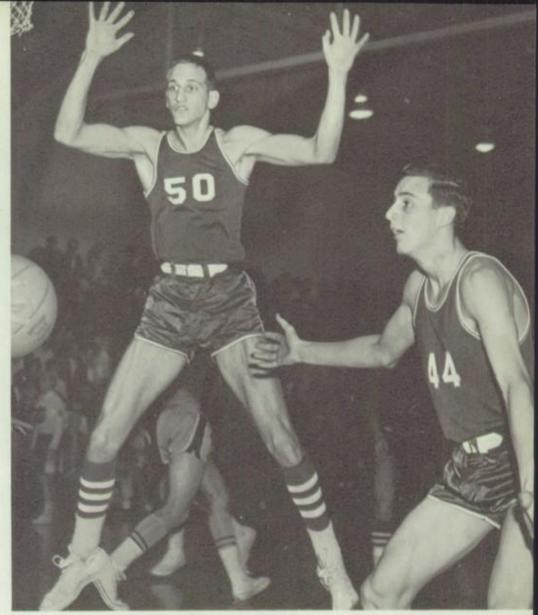

Several highlights of the 16-0 season were indicative of the team play. A record breaking 94 point spree against Milford surpassed by three the school scoring record set in '64 and tied earlier in the '67 season. The 91 point game scored earlier in the season against Oxford was noteworthy not only for the high score, but also because the defense held the Wildcats to only 36 points, a 55 point difference between the teams. Another defensive mark was notched by Kettering as they held a home court L'Anse Creuse team to no field goals in the game's first half. Two victories over Waterford added more satisfaction to an impressive season.

Teeter-Totter Season for Robinsons' IV Team

Basketball season started out on a sweet note this year for the J.V.'s as they won four out of their first five games. A sweet song was sung as a 49-45 victory was taken over Waterford Township. However, as the season progressed a sour note tolled as they won only three out of their last eleven games. Outstanding in the J.V. ensemble was Dave Powell, proving to be the most consistent scorer and rebounder.

Individual Grapplers Highlight Season and Tournaments

Chris Young exerts much effort in order to gain another victory.

Ending the season with five wins and nine losses, the wrestling team boasted several individual winners. The matmen sent two grapplers, Brian Hepburn and Bill Riggs, to the State Regionals where the latter placed fourth in competition. In the Christmas tournament, Captain Bill Riggs wrestled his way to third place, along with teammates Joe Vandruska and Rick Chidester. Rick was voted most improved and valuable player, and finished the season undefeated. All-County member Brian Hepburn won the outstanding wrestler award.

Co-captains for next year's wrestling team are Dave Bougine and Mickey Gobler. Although most of the team members are seniors, Coach Doug Spicer predicts a good season next year for the young team.

Top Ranking Track Team Runs Toward Championship

Portraying excellent form, Bill Penoza strains to jump as far as possible.

With expectations of a Tri-County trophy, twelve returning lettermen hoped to guide W-K to its best season in three years. Kettering's bid for the Tri-championship might be hampered by the distance races but strength in the shot put and dashes could checkmate it.

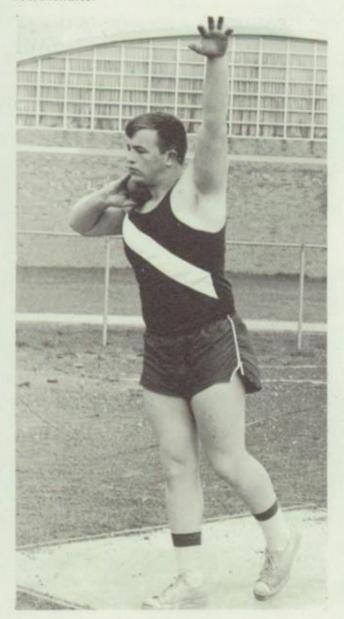

Outstanding in their events last year were Bill Penoza, high and low hurdles; Frank Liimatta, half mile and mile; Vince Griffin, 100 and 220 yard dashes; Clint Jone and Gene Brunner, shot put; and Joe Raczyinski, long jump.

Experienced Team Lends Hopes for Undefeated Season

With a three-two count and two out, a W-K pitcher breaks for second base in his attempt to bring the team closer to a tri-championship.

With a bright outlook on this year's season, the Captains of W-K hoped to get off the ground with a penetrating attack. Although W-K's baseball team isn't strong on offense, the outstanding defense should hold the opposition scoreless while Kettering gathers runs.

Leading the attack are power hitters Jack McCloud, Dick Miceli, Ken McLean, and Jerry Harkey, with returning lettermen Dan Runyan, Dan Giroux, Mark Curry, Jerry Beseau, and Bruce Mihalek contributing their defensive abilities. Since much of last year's Tri-County championship team is returning, the Captains look for a repeat performance.

All eyes follow the action, including the umpire and the Waterford runner streaking to third (far left), as the W-K infield plays heads up ball in their quest for a repeat championship.

Jeff Ratledge reaches high to secure another point.

Dave Pickup shows concern, while Bill Schilling, Ed Mehlberg, and David Cox are content with their scores shown by Mr. Sippell.

WKHS on Way to Winning Season

After compiling the best tennis record in school history last year, this season would seem even more promising with returning lettermen: Ed Melhberg, Dave Cox, Bill Schilling, Dave Pickup, Paul Atkins Carl Mae Donald and Jeff Ratledge.

Senior Ed Melhberg, a standout last season, should be a strong contender.

Golf Team Shows Great Potential

For the past several years WKHS's golf team, headed by Mr. Hubbell, have won the Tri-County Trophy. The team came in second last year in the Pontiac Press Invitational. The over-all record was 16 wins, with only 3 losses.

The bulk of this year's team is made up of the returning lettermen who are: Dan Larkin, Dave Molilanen, Ed Rafalko, Jim Richardson, Mark Turnbull, Gary Quitiquit, and coach, Mr. Steve Hubbell, who predicts a successful season for this year's team.

Jim Richardson has just completed a powerful drive; now to find the ball!

Mark Turnbull stands ready for his putt after watching the example of perfect form by Dave Molilanen.

Coach Steve Hubbell demonstrates proper grip while the golf team, with the exception of ham, Dan Larkin, looks on.

Amusing Basketball Antics Provide Outlet for Witty Distaff Dribblers

The Girls Varsity Basketball team, under the direction of Miss Huerstel showed signs of becoming the eighth wonder of the world. Would you believe the eighth wonder of Waterford-Kettering?

This year's team, headed by captain Sandy Postle, enjoyed a successful season with a 5-3 record. The team was made up of girls from all the classes, whowere interested in playing basketball and having a good time.

Referee Stoney talks to Sandy Postle (right) and the opposing team captain.

"I'm beat!" says Pam Godoshian as she moves back onto the court.

Coach Huerstel gives Patty Atkins a few pointers as Cathy Frayer and Lynn Hammond look on.

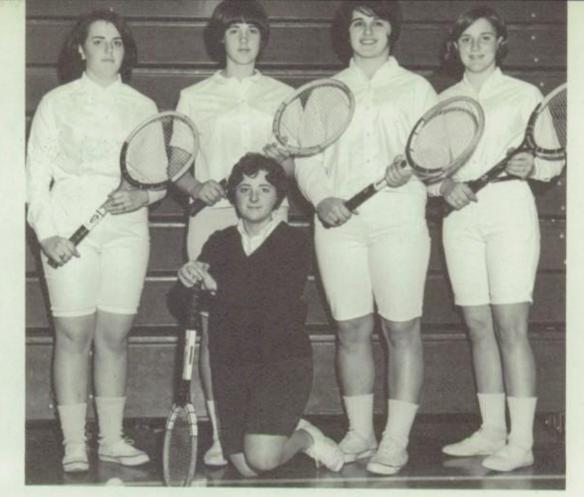

"Oh my side!" yells Cathy Frayer after she painfully returns the ball.

Sue Collins gets ready to hit the ball as Cheryl Bryan curiously watches.

W-K Girls Learn the Art of Tennis

Sponsored by Miss Huerstel, the vivacious girl's tennis team displayed the art of tennis by winning one match and losing another. The girls won their match with Pontiac Northern, but lost to Waterford Township High School. Practice for the team was held two nights each week on the Waterford-Kettering tennis court. The team did very well considering that girl's tennis is mostly a learning situation because of its newness to Kettering.

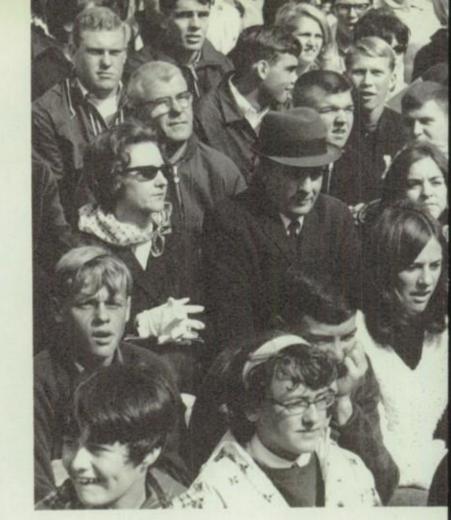

Participating in the matches were Cathy Frayer, Cheryl Bryan, Sue Collins, Karen Schwack, Taffy Wilson, Nancy Stoppart, Debby Baer, Pam Godoshian, and Mary Lou Marino.

Pam Godoshian waits as Nancy Stoppert starts to serve.

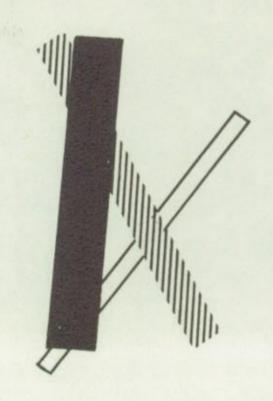

There Is a Place for Us

Among Friendly Faces

Separate inclinations of a multitude of students meet together in the student body of the school. This "one-ness" of fifteen hundred individuals is felt in athletic competitions, pep assemblies, school meetings, and class-room discussions. Sharing the same place and interests brings security to belonging. But familiar faces encourage us to constantly explore new avenues of interest.

Looking on as Mr. Bennetts explains the Bus chart for next year is Mr. Wallace.

Adminstration, Faculty Introduce Enthusiasm and Innovations into all Aspects of School Life

There's always a smile on principal Fry's face as he patrols the hall during lunch period.

There is always a new look at Waterford-Kettering. Each year another group of sophomores pushes their way through the crowd. The administrative department worked hard to keep up with juniors and seniors as well as the sophomores. In an effort to solve the problem of tardiness, administrators experimented with a "no bell" and a "one bell" system. Under their approval some remodeling was done to the school's interior.

Because the faculty works hard preparing students for tomorrows jobs, they need relaxation. In the pleasant surroundings of Waldon Woods, the Faculty enjoyed the sun while learning new teaching techniques. The Faculty members demonstrated their talents and will to work in the performance of the musical, "Wonderful Town," to raise money for the Foreign Exchange program.

Mr. James S. Fry, principal since Waterford-Kettering began, was instrumental in Kettering's keeping pace with the challenging and changing educational field. He was assisted by Mr. Howard Bennetts and Mr. Gerald Wallace. Others who helped in the changing times were Board of Education members Dorothy Barningham, John D. Boardman, Eldon C. Rosegart, and Michael Patterson. Officers of the Board were Robert E. Fields, President; Virginia M. Ross, Secretary; and Donald W. Porter, Treasurer. Administrators were Donald O. Tatroe, Superintendent of Waterford Public Schools; and Barrett M. Vorce and James DenHerder; Assistant Superintendents.

Sue Booker has a little chat with Superintendent Don Tatroe at lunch.

Cooks, Custodians Serve Student Body

Combining efforts to improve life at Kettering were the capable chefs of the kitchen and the hardworking laborers of the halls. Deserving more credit than they were given, the cafeteria and maintenance staffs played an important role in school life. The cafeteria staff was responsible for efficiently providing a nourishing lunch for 1500 students. Supervising the 15 women was Mrs. Una Carleson.

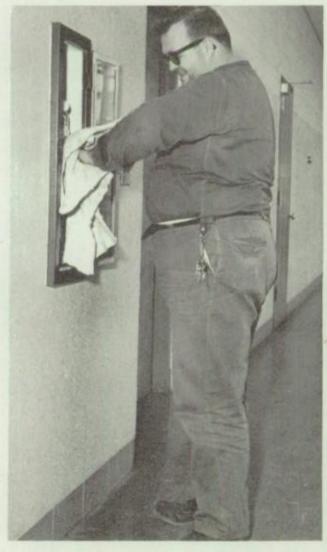

Also behind the scenes at Kettering were the custodians, who were continually working to make Kettering a better place. The maintenance men, who were considered the greatest when they opened a jammed locker, worked constantly for the benefit of the teachers as well as the students.

Working industriously, Mr. Irby and Mrs. Crigger help to keep the cafeteria running smoothly.

The rising cost of food strikes a serious note as Tom Reinhart watches Ron Pass purchase a cookie from Mrs. Wilton.

"Aren't I lucky to have such a beautiful fire extinguisher." marvels Mr. Irby as he happily polishes it.

"There's a bomb in the 500 wing?" echoes Mrs. Oakes apprehensively while Mrs. White unconcernedly keeps on with her typing.

In the pleasant and busy atmosphere of the library, Mrs. Lloyd stamps the book while Miss Dargitz looks for the card and Mrs. Crocker supervises.

"That leaves 10c for a cup of coffee on the school," mutters Mrs. Bryce as she finishes balancing for the day.

Mrs. Portwood works busily at recording sophomore files for next year.

Library, Office Staff Meet Requests with Courteous Aid

"Waterford Kettering High School." As students walked by the front office, this is what they heard. Besides answering the telephone, the office staff kept the files organized, typed announcements, and helped with student enrollment. Various jobs such as these kept the staff busy throughout the school day.

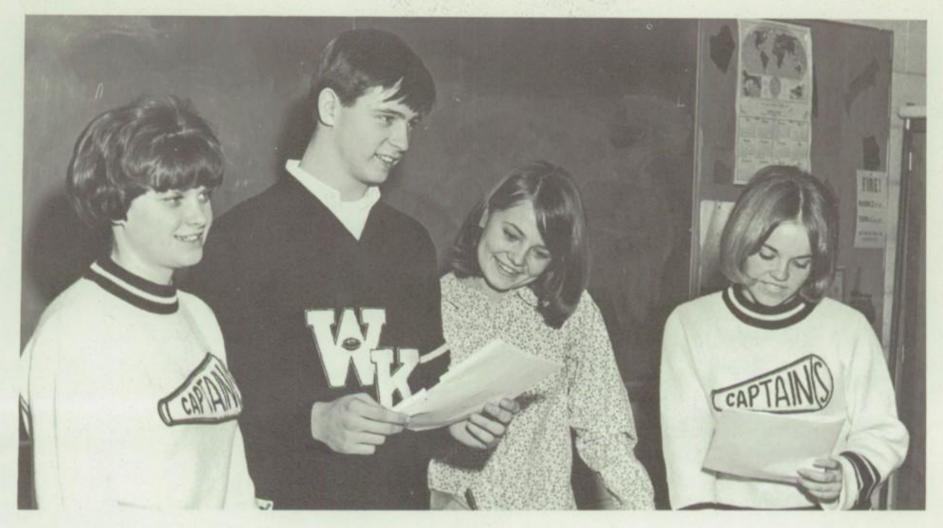

Helping students pass term papers was one of the tasks of the library staff this year. Without the help of the staff the library would be mass chaos due to the unorganized chattering within.

Furnishing students with necessary school supplies at a low cost, and helping all treasurers to balance their books were the main jobs of the bookstore staff. Whenever there was a pre-sale of tickets for athletic events the bookstore handled it without complaint.

"Sure, your long-lost uncle came to town," thinks Mrs. Spies as she makes out an absence slip.

Sophomore class officers Lynn Bachelor, Bob Earl, Diane Richmond, and Sue Aeschliman go over material for the class board meeting.

Sophomores-"Action, Speed, Yes Indeed!"

Sophomores began the new year at Kettering with a BANG! It didn't take long for the Sophomores to get into the swing of high school life and studies.

A thrill for Sophomores was the first place ribbon awarded to their homecoming float which beat out the Junior, Senior, and Dramatics Club floats. In time most of the challenges were met and achieved, while those big worries were completed with relief and a sense of accomplishment.

Excitement mounted when Sophomores began to prepare for another year that would bring on new challenges, achievements, and failures. But most of all class rings would be received.

Class board members Nancy Starrit, Diane Richmond, and Marcia Steehler give strict attention to what is being said in one of the many class board meetings.

Class of '68' Earns a Place for Themselves at WKHS

Let it never be said that the Class of '68 had no school spirit! The Juniors earned a place for themselves at Kettering and, while looking forward to the "top-notch" spot at W-K, successfully completed a "swinging" year both socially and academically.

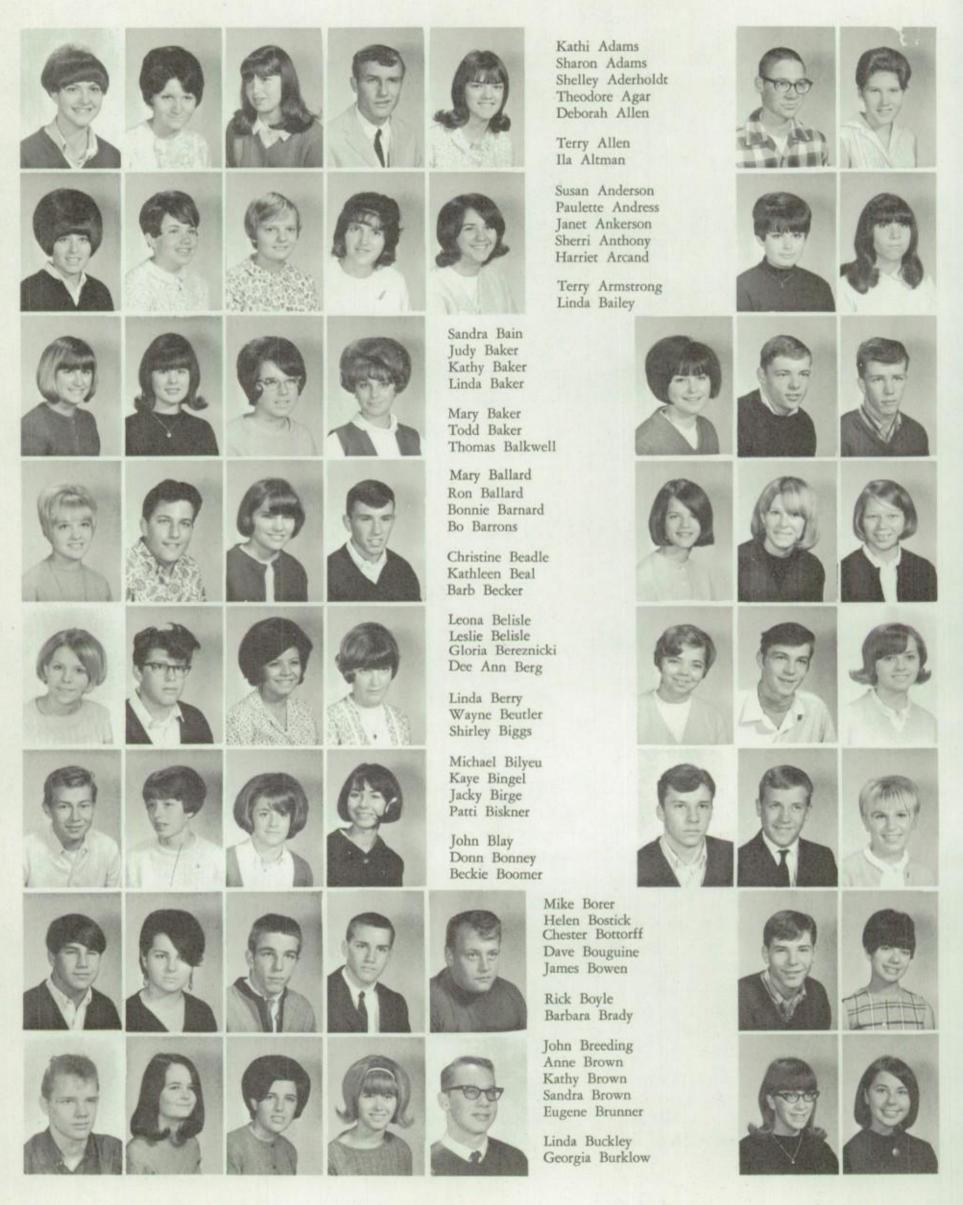

In the fall, with the assistance of Mr. Serbinoff and Mrs. Nickman, the class sponsored a victory dance honoring the undefeated football team. Juniors and their guests enjoyed a fun-packed evening and danced to to the music of the Mark Five.

With spring came the annual Sadie Hawkins dance "Spring Tonic." Weeks before March 10th girls, transformed as Daisy Maes, caught "Lil' Abners" and began planning the evening. Each tried to think of an original corsage for the all-important contest with junior date Todd Baker winning with a corsage originated by sophomore Lynn Bachelor.

As the '66-'67 school year drew to a close, Juniors became busy with the pre-enrollment for their senior year. The prospect of graduation became more of a reality and Juniors began considering their place for themselves after graduation.

Seniors Fare Well In Everything Undertaken

A gigantic black cat perched precariously atop a float, an unforgettable New York excursion, a prom where couples became denizens of the deep and the class of '67 faced graduation, their high school days having drawn to a close.

Under the able leadership of President Mike McGrath, the Senior Class Board and other Board officers undertook Candy Sales, after game dances and contributed to school activities ranging from Student Council to National Honor Society.

Several individuals brought laurels to the class with personal triumphs. Dawn Mercer received the DAR Award, Jennifer Seigart was named Waterford's Junior Miss, Bob Von Bargon took the Optimists Award for excellence in athletics, scholarship and leadership, and Ken McLean was voted All State in football.

Mark Peters demonstrates some personal techniques for fire prevention.

Honest Sir, I can't even type!

Joan Allen devotes a few spare minutes to faculty portraiture.

Assembly opened an eventful 5th annual Homecoming

"Class flirts" Rick Ogg and Joan Allen delight in their own personal harems.

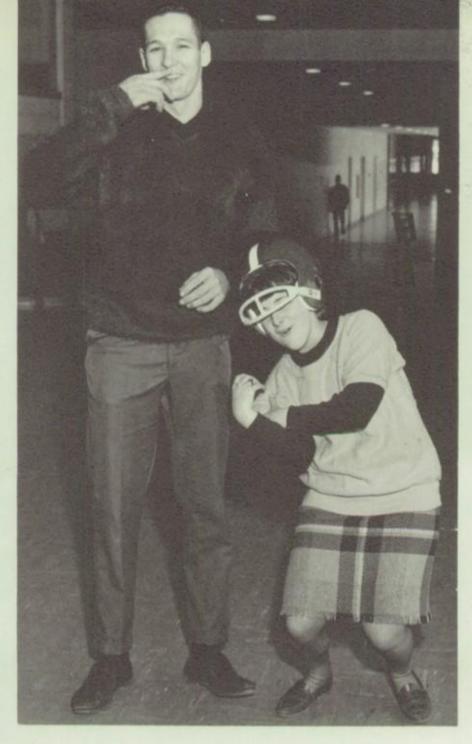

Seniors Hold "Most" Elections

As the 66-67 school year moves to a close, the Seniors hold their annual Mock Elections. Every year twelve Senior girls and twelve Senior boys are chosen to fill the "most" classifications. The Senior Class on the whole votes for any Senior boy or girl for any category he or she wishes. The top three boys and top three girls with the most votes are put on a ballot sheet. From here, one boy and one girl are chosen for each category, representing a "most".

It's fun as well as interesting to find out the results of the poles. It is an honor and a priviledge to be chosen a "most" by your classmates. Congratulations and Good Luck to you all.

(Gasp) "Mr. Fry, what are you doing here?" questions "most likely to succeed" Kent Aschlimen to Dawn Mercer.

"Kazoontite!!!" Says "most athletic" Cathy Frayer to Dick Miceli.

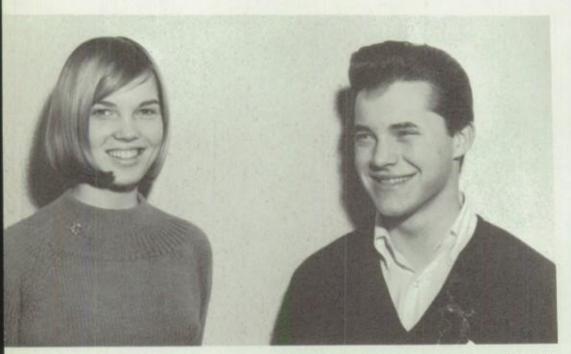

"Oops!" says "most courteous" Dave Pickup to Shirley Hall. "Sorry about that."

"I'll drink to that!" says "most school spirited" Ralph Windeler to Elaine Getzmeyer.

Still Other Victors Were...

Displaying their "pretty smiles" are Carolyn Carr and Glenn Dimetrio.

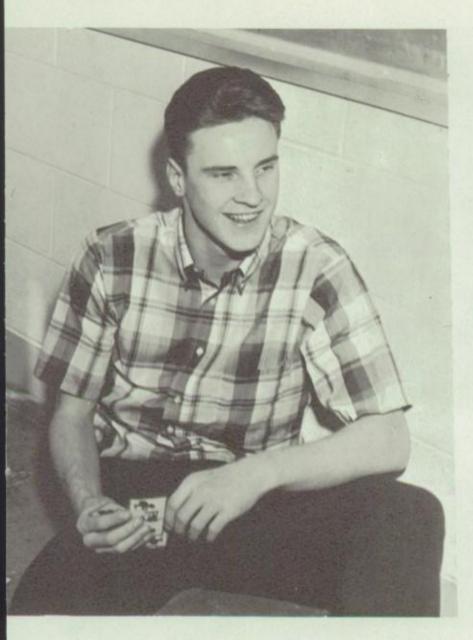

"Darn you," says "class wit" Doug Langdon to comrade Terry Douglas, "let me out, the teacher's coming."

"It's all clear," says "most shy" Dan Larkin to Judy Howe.

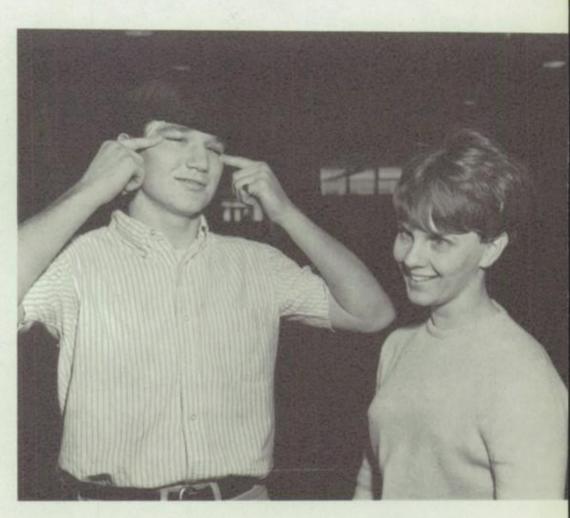

"Just wait until I find that other ace," says "most all around" Carole Richardson while unaware Jack McCloud waits to play his hand.

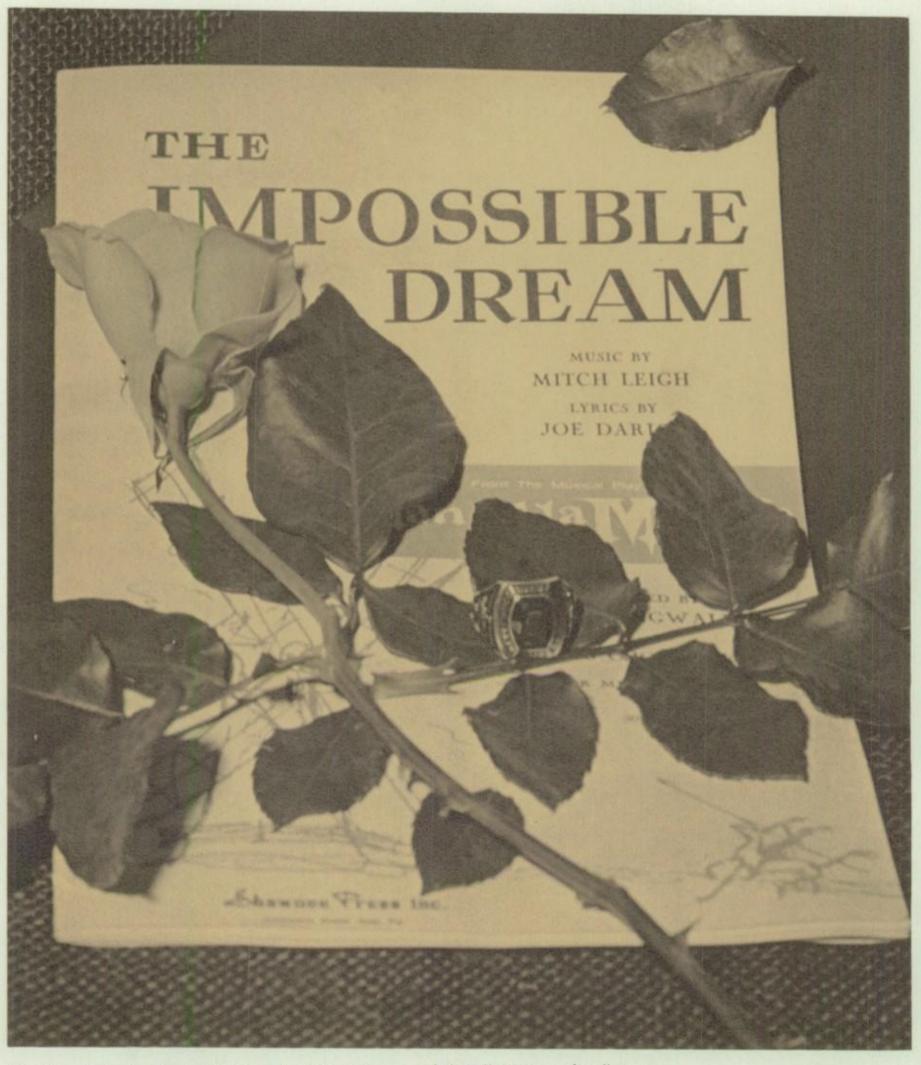

"Get your fat fingers out of the way," says "most valuable to class" Sue Ringler to Mike Mc Grath.

Friendly" Al Pauly begs for mercy from bis compatriot Mary Muse.

Confucius say, "Brian Hepburn and Mary Colgrove have prettiest eyes."

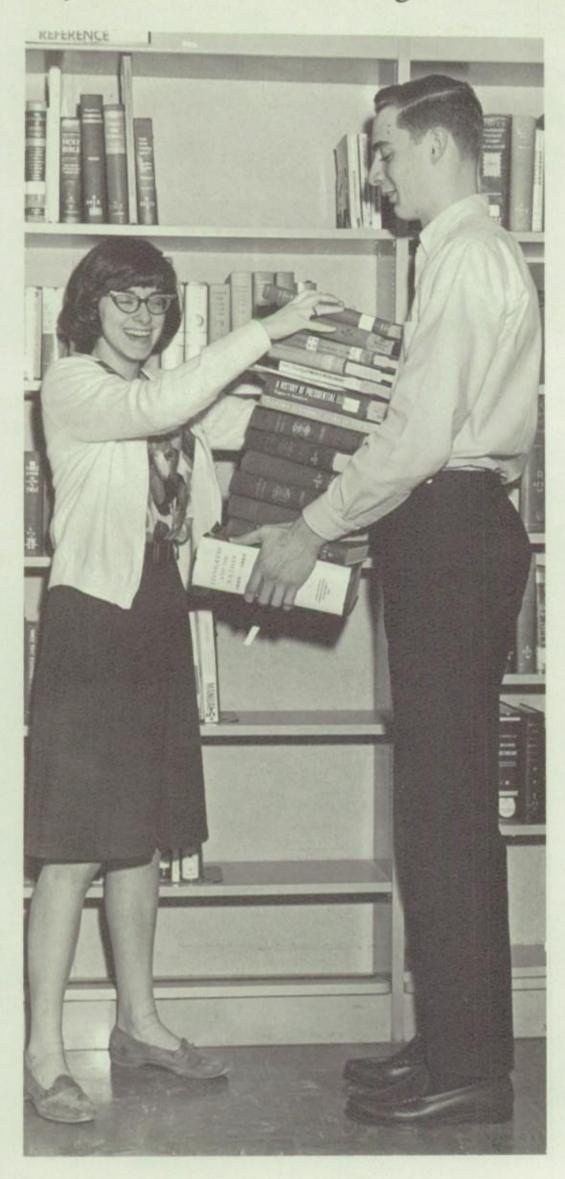

The class of '67 chose "Impossible Dream" as their class song and the yellow rose as class flower.

"Sea green and ocean blue" were chosen as the class colors.

Chosen as the words to guide the class of '67 in their future endeavors was the quote; "Reach for the highest and brightest stars and never let the falling ones discourage you".

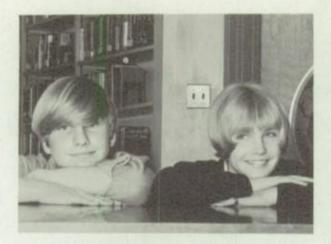

Boy-Girl Duo Take Highest Scholastic Honors

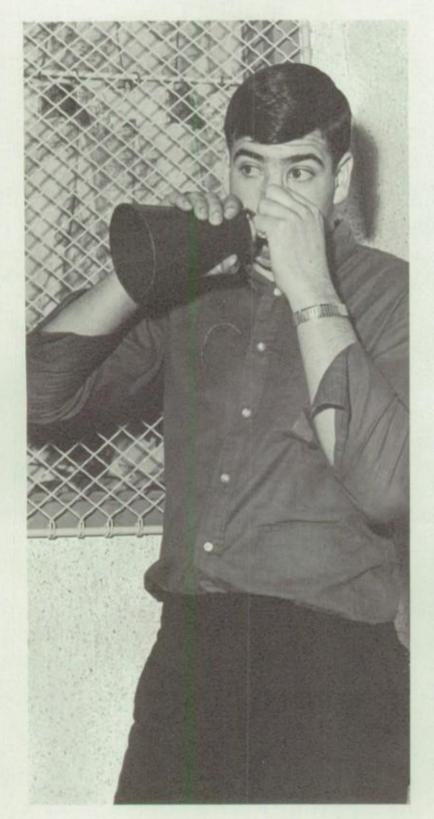

Valedictorian David G. Cox, holding a four point average, was active in basketball. For the second year in a row, he was named "Most Valuable Player" in the Tri-County League. Also for the second time, he made the All County team, All Suburban team, and Honorable All State team. Dave played tennis and was an active member in Varsity club. He plans to attend the University of Michigan or Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island, where he hopes to take up aerospace training and play some basketball. Dave's favorite pastime is model railroading. He likes music of all kinds and in the summer he enjoys swimming. Dave is a member of the National Honors Society, and a top notch student.

Patricia Atkins, with an average of 3.93, was named salutatorian of the Class of '67. Planning to attend the University of Michigan in the fall, Patty will be one of 220 students in the experimental Residential College where she will probably major in journalism. Co-editor of the yearbook, Patty was active in G.A.A. and G.A.A. Letter Club and also on the girls basketball team. A member of National Honors Society, Pat's after school interests include playing softball and listening to baseball on the radio, playing the piano, reading, and collecting stamps.

The watch words for hair was straight, long, and short (long for boys, short or very long for girls). Displaying the look for our camera are Doug Jerolamon and Sue Kohnke. Or is it Sue Kohnke and Doug Jerolamon?

The sound of the twenties made a comeback in '67. Here Jim Mote emulates one of his favorites, Rudy Valee.

Laying in great profusion are many of the "in" style shoes, from left, soft leather, loafers, boys loafers, wing tips, bush puppies, and loafers with tassles.

Twenty Years From Now-A Bald Headed Frat?!

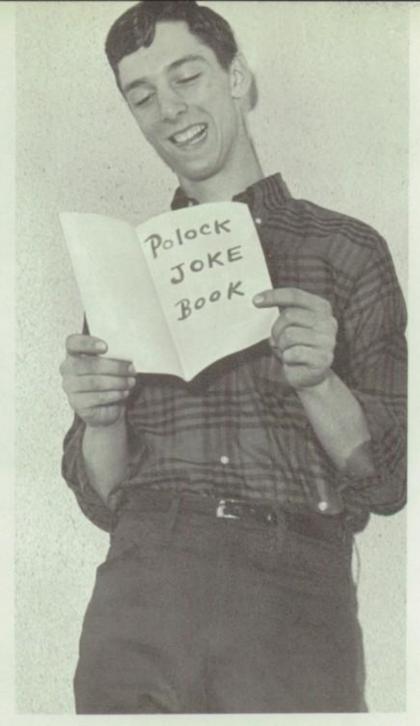

Way out fashion of today will really be way out twenty years from now. The purpose of these two pages are to nudge the memory in that far distant future and let your kids say how funny you looked back in the swinging 60's.

Here are several words and phrases to help bring you back: Pschodelic, mod, mini, Monkees, gets it, protest, draft dodging, frat, grease, and school unity.

And won't we all feel old when the booga—lu is classified like the charelston is in '67 . . . in the olden times.

Denise Wylie shows her patriotism by wearing her army jacket and striking down suspected Viet Cong, Patty Atkins.

Polock jokes were a favorite in '67. Here Joe Raczyinski, polock of the year reads a book of favorites.

LIoy d Hancock (Mr. Carnaby Street) and Ron Pass decked out in knickers, examine Honey Frankowski's skirt, a modest four inches above her knees.

Sweaters are always correct for school wear as Taffy Wilson, Rick Boyle, Vonnie Frack, and Penny Anderson prove.

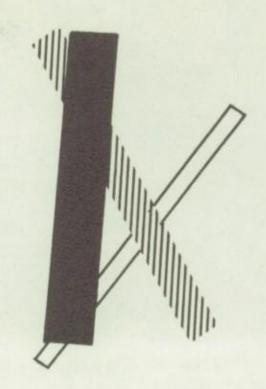

Mass Communication Leads

To Better Advertisement

Advertising is an investment that will hopefully pay off in buyer interest. The development of mass communications leads to better advertising with people eager to inform and persude the public.

To maintain public support, satisfying the consumer is a main consideration. In purchasing and selling consumer goods, we are aware that there is a place in the world of advertising for us.

What ever happened to the self-made man?

There's nothing wrong with digging ditches. It's healthy, and these days, it pays well. Too bad it doesn't often lead to something better. It's not as easy as it used to be to work your way up from scratch. Today the really good jobs go to those who have the background to get them. So whatever chance you have for more training and education, take it. If you dig ditches in the summer, get ahead by studying civil engineering in the fall. If you plan to work in an office, take night courses. If you have a newspaper route, sock some dough away for more schooling. Remember what happened to the self-made man . . . he got educated. How about you?

Zukowski, Shirley—131 Through the work of compiling this yearbook, we became aware of the extra effort and the constructive assistance the following people willingly gave us in helping us to meet our deadlines.

A very special thanks we extend to Mrs. Virginia Stamp and Mrs. Sayles of Sayles Studio who worked long hours in handling the photography side of this yearbook.

Thanks go also to Frank and Denny Smrcina of Pontiac Typesetting whose prompt and courteous service made deadline time easier on the whole staff.

We also thank the Modern Yearbook staff for their professional assistance and their perceptive understanding in helping adapt a book to our needs and specifications.

With this completed yearbook we say thank you to our advisor, Mr. Hubbell. Without his ingenious innovations and patience, the yearbook would have been in danger of sinking under the resulting inefficiency and uncompleted pages.

Cally Patty
